Soviets Claim He Averted Hitler War

MOSCOW, Oct. 10 (AP)—Soviet Russia's leading airmen today solemnly denounced Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh in a statement accusing him of spreading lies about Soviet air strength to give Prime Minister Chamberlain of Britain arguments for the surrender of Czechoslovakia.

The Moscow statement was signed by 11 Soviet airmen, including Civil Aviation Chief Vasily Molokoff. Ten of the group had been designated officially as "heroes of the Soviet union."

Published in the Communist party newspaper Pravda, the statement called Lindbergh a "stupid liar, a lackey and a flatterer of German Fascists."

It accused Lindbergh of telling guests of Lady Astor in London that Germany's air fleet was powerful enough to defeat the combined air strength of France, England, the Soviet union and Czechoslovakia.

"CHAMBERLAIN'S EXCUSE"

His purpose, the statement said, was to provide Chamberlain with arguments for handing over parts of Czechoslovakia to Adolf Hitler.

The statement characterized Lindbergh as a "has been" among aviators who recently took advantage of Soviet hospitality toward Americans by barging into Moscow without an invitation.

Among other things the statement said:

"Five years ago Lindbergh visited the Soviet Union, where he was cordially and sincerely received by the Soviet people. The Soviet people cordially opened to Lindbergh the doors of schools and theatres and the gates of airports.

"And then, not long ago, Lindbergh again visited the Soviet Union. It should be noted that nobody invited him, and that if he was permitted to come it was

Nazis Hold Cardinal Prisoner in Vienna

Special to Boston Evening American

VIENNA, Oct. 10—Theodore Cardinal Innitzer, Archbishop of Vienna, today was under technical "house arrest" to safeguard him from anti-Catholic disorders against which Nazi police authorities took drastic measures of suppression.

CARDINAL INNITZER
"Guarded" by Nazis

Austria's Catholic primate was guarded inside his riot-damaged palace, while Vienna's St. Stephen's square witnessed renewed fist-fighting and disturbances which Nazi officials declared were instigated in Communist quarters.

Youthful demonstrators, led by "irresponsible elements" according to the authorities, greeted with loud boos and beating of drums a group of worshippers leaving St. Stephen's Cathedral after a Bible reading. Then, they paraded the streets adjacent to the square, shouting:

"March on, comrades. Hang the Jews. Shoot the priests."

The papal nuncio to Germany, Monsignor Orsenigo, was reported to have arrived in Vienna this afternoon from Berlin to examine the situation.

With Cardinal Innitzer still confined to the palace, he presided during the day at a church conference in the building.

Earlier, several persons were badly hurt in brushes provoked by unruly youths as a congregation left the cathedral following Sunday mass.

NAZIS DENY BLAME

A Nazi party spokesman said Nazi organizations were not involved either in disorders, or in the mob attack on the Cardinal's palace in which the prelate had been unconfirmedly reported slightly hurt.

Pointing out that the 63-year-old Cardinal for many years has been an outstanding leader in the church's struggle against Bolshevism, Nazi circles cited a statement issued by the Vienna department of Germany's ministry of propaganda and enlightenment, saying:

"Provisional results of a police investigation provide reason to believe that certain interested persons among Communist quarters are responsible for the incidents."

Confinement of the cardinal to his palace constituted the first time a prelate of his eminent rank has been placed under German police custody of any kind. But, the Nazi spokesman denied any additional measures to restrict His Eminence are contemplated and said the cardinal is being allowed the full freedom of the palace. He added:

"The house arrest was effected for the sole purpose of protecting the cardinal against crowds."

AWAIT VATICAN REACTION

The reaction of the Vatican to the new incidents revolving around the Church in overwhelmingly Catholic Austria was awaited here.

Joseph Buerckel, Reich commissioner for Ostmark (the name given Austria following its annexation to Germany), was understood to have ordered severe punishment for persons found guilty of having instigated or led the mob onslaught in which the cardinal's palace was invaded, looted and partially wrecked.

BULLETIN

ROME, Oct. 10 (AP)—L'Osservatore Romano, Vatican newspaper, today protested against the "outrageous attack" made by a Viennese crowd Saturday night against the palace of Theodore Cardinal Innitzer, archbishop of Vienna.

'Buzz' Harvey's Blood May Save Nick Morris' Life

Charles "Buzz" Harvey, Saugus High School football coach, gave blood today for a transfusion which surgeons hoped might save the life of Assistant Coach Nick Morris, victim of a football field injury.

Harvey and Morris both starred in former years as Holy Cross varsity football players.

Hurt when he was tackled Sunday in a semi-pro football game in Lynn, Morris was feared dying today.

KIDNEY REMOVED

One of his kidneys, ruptured by his fall, was removed in an emergency operation.

He was in critical condition at Union Hospital, Lynn, when Coach Harvey volunteered for the transfusion.

After the transfusion, Morris was reported "resting comfortably" but his name was still on the danger list.

INJURED IN TACKLE

At Saugus high school, where Morris taught civics in addition to acting as assistant football coach, students organized demonstrations of sympathy today.

The game in which Morris was hurt was between the East Lynn American Legion team, of which he was halfback, and the Quincy Manets.

In a play in which he acted as a blocking back, Morris was cut down by an opponent. Force of the crash lacerated one of his kidneys.

So. Boston Man Found Shot Dead

The body of a man identified by police as William F. Mahoney, 39, of Gates street, South Boston, was found today in an automobile parked beside the Carson Beach bathhouse, South Boston. He was shot through the head.

The body was taken to the Southern Mortuary for examination.

Patrolmen John O'Donnell and William Griffiths of South Boston station discovered the body. O'Donnell, an acquaintance, declared Mahoney, unmarried, was employed in a liquor store in Fourth street, South Boston.

The victim was found slumped on the front seat. An automatic pistol lay in his lap.

Capone Foe Goes Mad At Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10 (INS)—James C. Lucas, swaggering Texas bank robber, slasher of Al "Scarface" Capone, and now awaiting trial for the murder of an Alcatraz guard, has gone mad within the confines of "America's Devil Island," his attorney claimed today.

A federal district court will be asked to order appointment of psychiatrists to determine Lucas' exact mental condition.

Warden James A. Johnston refused to confirm or deny reports of Lucas' insanity.

Dies to Ask Purge Among U.S. Workers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (INS)—Chairman Martin Dies (D.) of Texas said today that he will urge President Roosevelt to take steps to purge the government of employes spreading foreign propaganda. Specifically, he named the WPA Federal Theater and Writers' Projects.

Dies was prompted to make the proposal by President Roosevelt's attack on foreign spies and the conference with heads of various agencies Mr. Roosevelt is expected to have on the subject.

Burleigh Grimes Faces New Suit

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (INS)—Marital troubles of Burleigh Grimes, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, were revived today with the revelation that Wife No. 1, Mrs. Florence Ruth Grimes, who divorced him eight years ago, has served him with a summons in a $5000 suit, the nature of which was not revealed.

Last year Mrs. Grimes brought the temperamental baseball player in court on charges he failed to comply with an order to effect a property division.

'Pay' to Graves Bared in Trial

Frederick H. Graves' own admissions that he had, or claimed to have had, a "financial arrangement" to testify in the Curley-Santosuosso case were revealed in telegrams and letters introduced in evidence before Judge Harold Williams today.

One of the telegrams also revealed that Graves had, or claimed to have had, a "flattering offer from opponents."

Harold A. Osborn, general manager of the United Shoe Machinery Corporation, to whom Graves sent his telegram, admitted on the witness stand that it was his understanding Graves was referring to "Mr. Curley's suit" against the Boston Herald-Traveler Corp. for $500,000.

$350 AND EXPENSES

Osborn admitted Graves received a total of $350. Of this, it was brought out, $200 was Osborn's personal check, and an accompanying letter indicated it was to be regarded only as a loan.

In addition, Osborn admitted, "we" paid Graves' hotel bill in St. Louis, amounting to $207.

"GRAVEY" LETTERS

Two of the letters introduced in evidence, from Graves to Osborn, were addressed "Dear Oz," and were signed "Gravey."

Attorney Lafayette R. Chamberlain, Graves' counsel, objected strenuously to the letters and telegrams being introduced by Assistant District Attorney Frederick T. Doyle.

"I gathered from Mr. Doyle's opening statement that he proposed to show acts of conspiracy," Attorney Chamberlin said. "I don't believe these exhibits properly should be introduced in evidence until and unless he does so."

QUEST FOR FUNDS

Doyle retorted:

"I am trying to show Graves was, from time to time, after he gave his affidavit in St. Louis, in communication with these people, soliciting funds."

Judge Harold Williams himself took the first of the telegrams and questioned Osborn. This telegram reads:

"Competition found location through office making change necessary and change of plans. Hawksaw increased bill $50 flattening offer from opponents. If necessary to call me, wire in advance. Expect completed plans as arranged. Better send additional expenses."

"Did you take any action on this telegram?" Judge Williams asked.

"Yes, sir," Osborn admitted.

'Love Nest' Plan Charged at Trial

After many alleged kissing, hugging and drinking parties with a "Mr W." pretty, blond, young Mrs. Mary Alice Bailey Lawlor once said she planned to leave her husband and "set up an apartment with Mr. W.," according to testimony given today in Middlesex probate court.

MRS. ALICE LAWLOR
In Court for Divorce

The witness was Miss Martha Lawlor, sister of John K. Lawlor of Lexington.

Mrs. Lawlor is seeking a divorce on charges of cruelty.

SAW HER SPANKED

Miss Lawlor, the sister, repeated today her previous descriptions of gay evenings in the Lawlor home.

She testified she saw Mrs. Lawlor caressed, embraced and playfully spanked by several men friends, including "Norman," "Bill" and "Mr. H."

Mrs. Lawlor admitted in court that one man friend stamped his initials on her thigh, above her stocking top.

CALLED "MERE PRANK"

It was merely a prank, played "in fun," she testified.

Contesting his wife's divorce action, Lawlor is also suing her socially prominent parents, George W. Bailey and Mrs. Alice Cooper Bailey of Weston for $40,000, charging alienation of Mrs. Lawlor's affections.

Mrs Bailey, author of children's books, is a daughter of a former governor-general of Hawaii.

Women Lose Birth Control Appeal to U. S. High Court

MRS. FLORA RAND MRS. AMELIA FERRIS

MRS. CAROLYN GARDNER

Four socially prominent Greater Boston women, arrested and fined here for alleged violation of the state's anti-birth-control statute, lost a hard-fought legal battle today when the United States Supreme Court refused to intervene in their behalf.

Ruling that "no substantial federal question" was involved, the nation's highest tribunal dismissed appeals of the Massachusetts defendants.

Original prosecution of the four women followed raids on alleged birth control clinics in various North Shore and Boston communities.

4 FINED $100 EACH

Found guilty and fined $100 each were Dr. Lucille Lord-Heinstein, 34, of Columbia road, Dorchester; Mrs. Pamela D. Ferris, 30, of Robert road, Marblehead; Mrs. Carolyn T. Gardner, 29, of Broad street, Salem, and Mrs. Flora Rand, 33, of Harris road, Brookline.

They carried their earlier appeals through Superior Court to the Supreme Court of Massachusetts.

Having been convicted of distributing birth control information in violation of the statute,

Dog Worth $20,000 Reveals Tragic Death of His Guardian

The barking of "Brownie, the dog with the $20,000 fortune," revealed the suicide of Miss Alice L. Porter, 38, in Woburn today.

Last April, Mrs. Marion B. Springer, Nashua street, Woburn, died leaving a $20,000 trust fund for "Brownie," her nine-year-old airedale.

Miss Porter and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William O. Porter, Ingalls street, Woburn, were named in the will as Brownie's "guardians." Since then, Brownie has been in the Porter home.

Early today, Mr. and Mrs. Porter were awakened by Brownie barking and whining.

When they went downstairs, they told Medical Examiner William H. Keleher later, they found Brownie whining and scratching at the back door. As soon as they let him out he ran to the garage in the rear of the house, then came back, then ran to the garage again.

$20,000 DOG

In the garage they found their daughter, fully dressed, dead of carbon monoxide poisoning.

LEAVES DESPONDENT NOTE

She had retired with the rest of the family at 10 o'clock last night, they told Dr. Keleher, and must have risen later, re-dressed, and gone to the garage.

A note from Miss Porter was found, Dr. Keleher stated. It indicated she was despondent, he said.

A fire department inhalator squad worked in efforts to revive her for more than an hour, but in vain.

Scores Yuill Sermon Pastor

Theodore A. Lothrop, general secretary of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, today assailed the sermon on the Yuill case preached by the Rev. Edgar Jones, Plymouth rector, as an "undignified and unwarranted attack on the courts of the Commonwealth."

Lothrop's blast was in reply to Dr. Jones' assertion to his Christ Episcopal Church congregation that the court order depriving Mr. and Mrs. James Yuill of the custody of their daughter Marion was "legal kidnaping."

Guardianship of the 13-year-old girl was awarded to the S. P. C. C. by Judge George M Poland in Brockton after she charged her parents with cruelty and refused to accompany them to a proposed new home in Scotland.

"I believe the use of such a case as material for a sermon is most undignified and unclerical," said Lothrop. "It smacks of the sensation-seeking parson."

The Plymouth pastor was criticized by Lothrop for "casting public reflection" on the integrity and justice of law.

"This idea of 'legal kidnaping' is unfounded," Lothrop declared.

"The case came before the courts not simply because the Yuill child refused to go to Scotland, but because of her charges — which the court believed — of overwork and cruel and abusive treatment.

"Her story, corroborated by reliable witnesses, was accepted by a level-headed judge, but now Mr. Jones wants to set himself up as a tribunal, which is straying far from his field."

Vermont Man Held On Murder Charge

BURLINGTON, Vt., Oct. 10 (AP)—Sheriff Fred Lynch arrested a man booked as J. E. Kenyon, 50, of Waterbury, on a charge of murder in the death of Leon Dewey, 56, of Richmond.

The charge was brought by State's Attorney K. Paul Fennell after Dewey died. Officers said Dewey had been beaten in a dispute last August over wiring on Kenyon's car in Dewey's garage.

Clashes Mark Auto Rate Probe

Today's public hearing on compulsory auto insurance was enlivened by one of 200 spectators shouting at State Insurance Commissioner C. Frank Harrington:

"This is foolishness!"

Harrington had requested protestors in the audience to write objections on slips of paper.

"What's your name?" asked Harrington, as attendants sought to give the dissenter the "rush."

He replied:

"You won't get my name but this business of writing on slips of paper is a gag. It means we haven't the right to speak."

CHARGES "RACKET"

Dr. Manford R. Spaulding, Auburn selectman, then charged that auto insurance in this state "is a great racket." He added, speaking for the Massachusetts Mutual Liability Insurance League:

"Current insurance rates are based entirely on faulty estimates, inaccuracies and faulty registrations."

Lucy B. Carleton, assistant to the insurance commissioner, introduced data of 1937 accident experience on which 1938 rates are based.

RAPS TAXI RATES

Alderman John S. Shea, of Worcester, protested "ridiculous" rates on taxicabs in his city and said the business was threatened with extinction unless rates were lowered. He said:

"Worcester taxicab owners pay $400 compulsory insurance on each cab, the highest rate in the United States. How do you suppose they can make a living?"

Ghost Ships Salute Thebaud!

Outsmarts Bluenose In First Race of Series

By FRED PERKINS

Ghost ships, their gaunt spars wet with Grand Banks fog, must surely have been dipping storm-tattered pennons in salute today, as Captain Ben Pine's victorious racing schooner Thebaud sailed home triumphantly to Gloucester.

HELM SKILL of Capt. Ben Pine was responsible in large measure for victory of Gertrude L. Thebaud over Bluenose in annual fisherman race off Nahant.

Unseen by human eyes the ghost ships were, of course. But they couldn't have failed to be on hand to clang spectral bells and toot inviaible horns in the Thebaud's honor.

For, in out-smarting and outspeeding her big Lunenburg, N. S. rival, Bluenose, off Boston, the Thebaud did what many a gallant Gloucesterman, now in Davy Jones' locker, vainly sought to do.

Thebaud's win here put her one up on Skipper Angus Walters' Bluenose in a challenge series of races for the International Fishermen's Trophy.

SECOND RACE TOMORROW

Race No. 2 will be sailed off Gloucester tomorrow. Three wins out of five—if she scores 'em—will give Thebaud the much-coveted Halifax Herald cup, emblematic of the championship of the North Atlantic fishing fleet.

The schooner Esperanto, out of Gloucester, won cup and championship almost 20 years ago. But she foundered coming home from a later Grand Banks fishing trip.

The burly Canadian Bluenose, built as a challenger, took the trophy back to Halifax.

Gloucester fishermen, thereafter, pinned their hopes successively to the schooners Columbia, Puritan and Henry Ford. All three were lost at sea before they could match speed conclusively with the Bluenose.

Their bones were fathoms deep in the 'Graveyard of the Atlantic' when the present Gloucester challenger, the Thebaud, took up the gage of battle.

She won a short-lived triumph in 1930, only be defeated by the Bluenose in 1931.

This year's races, first since that time, were widely hailed as a "walkover" for the Bluenose.

BLUENOSE OUT-MANOEUVRED

Much larger than the Thebaud and a bigger sail-carrier, she was an odds-on favorite in the betting.

But—

Off Boston yesterday, the underrated Thebaud impressively outmanoeuvred and out-sailed the Bluenose.

Bluenose took the lead at the start, but Thebaud closed the gap, rounding the first buoy.

From that moment on, it was definitely Thebaud's race. Smart handling enabled her to force Bluenose to tack away from her, on the third six-mile leg of the 36-mile course.

Bluenose never was able to get the lead again.

TWICE AROUND TRIANGLE

Their lea rails frequently awash, as they tore along, heeling to a brisk northwesterly wind, the rival schooners gave a record turnout of spectators full measure of thrills.

The course was twice around an 18-mile triangle. A "merry-go-round," sharp-tongued Captain Angus Walters called it.

Making the turns and on the beats to windward, he lost time handling his over-sized sails. His fore topmast weakened under press of canvas, and he finally had to take in his jib topsail and fore topsail.

Crossing the finish line, he was loser by two minutes, 56 seconds, a scant enough margin in a race that was won by the Thebaud in running time totalling only a few seconds less than five hours.

Tomorrow's Gloucester course will be more to the Nova Scotia captain's liking than the Boston "merry-go-round." It will be once around a 36-mile triangle, with ess turns to-make and less manoeuvring to accomplish.

HELENE and PATRICIA MULCRONE

12 Bid for Twin Girls Dad Gives Up

MARBLE HALL, Pa., Oct. 10 (AP)—An impoverished father today weighed eager replies to his request that "some rich family" adopt his 12-year-old twin daughters.

Twelve unnamed persons "bid" yesterday for the girls, blond Helene and brunette Patricia Mulcrone.

Their widower father, Joseph, 40, said he would consider only offers by letter, giving full details of the prospective foster parents' background and resources. First offers came by telegraph or were relayed to Mulcrone by newspapers through which he made his request.

"PARTED BY LOVE"

Mulcrone, a well-to-do engineer and musician until poor health forced his retirement, insisted "foster parents must be able to give Helene and Patricia the things my poverty denies them."

He said he couldn't part with them "if it wasn't for my great love for them."

Neighbors said the father gave the girls expert music instruction by the hour until they became talented pianists.

GRANDPA OPPOSED

Mulcrone refused to reveal the names of applicants.

The first request was from a New York city couple who said they had been married 19 years and were childless. Another was a widow whose daughter died.

The proposal was opposed "to the last ditch" by the twins' grandfather, who works on a WPA road crew.

"I've supported these kids up till now, and I'll do it as long as I'm able," he said. "But after all, they're my son's children and he'll do what he wants with them."

Sterilization Scored At Catholic Conference

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 10 (AP)—Dr. James T. Nix, dean of the Louisiana State School of Medical Science, told the National Conference of Catholic Charities today that "sterilization is an unnecessary and often a harmful procedure."

The Louisiana physician, in an address prepared for delivery before the conference's committee on health, reviewed medical aspects of a practice which is now legal, under certain conditions, in 29 states, and concluded:

"The arguments for sterilization for the sake of the mother are even weaker than the arguments for the sake of the child, as practice has repeatedly proven."

He based his statement on 27 years of medical practice, and on the answers to three questionnaires sent professors of obstetrics and to Louisiana practioners.

Dr. Nix advocated as a substitute for sterilization the use of "the rhythm" or system of physiological control whereby continence is practised during a certain period of the month.

Security for labor through fair wages, was stressed by Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan and prelates of the church at the conference's first general session.

Governor Murphy said if industry will "give labor the assurance of steady work under decent conditions for a wage that provides a comfortable standard of living, it will be content."

Mooney Loses High Court Plea

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The Supreme Court refused today to review Thomas J. Mooney's latest appeal for release from San Quentin Penitentiary.

Mooney is serving a life sentence for complicity in the 1916 Preparedness Day parade bombing in San Francisco.

Justices Black and Reed took the rarely-used step of denoting their descent to the court's order which apparently closed the door to any hope that Mooney may obtain release through court action—unless new evidence should be discovered.

However, John F. Finerty, Mooney's counsel told newspapermen "we are not through yet" and obtained permission to submit papers within 20 days to seek a writ of habeas corpus.

ACT ON 300 PLEAS

Similar action three years ago was unsuccessful.

The court also refused to review the conviction of Anna Marie Hahn of Cincinnati, under sentence to die as poison slayer of Jacob Wagner, an elderly acquaintance, in 1937.

The state contended Wagner was one of four men who died in a scheme to "murder for profit."

The Mooney and Hahn action were two of approximately 300 petitions for review upon which the court acted.

The outcome of litigation involving interpretations of the National Labor Relations Act follow:

(1) The Ford Motor Company obtained a review of its contention that the National Labor Relations Board should not be permitted to withdraw litigation involving an order directed against the automobile concern. Argument was set for November 7.

Ford had appealed from a federal ruling permitting the board to recall an order directing the company to reinstate 29 employes at Michigan plants.

RULE ON LABOR LAWS

(2) The court agreed to review a ruling by the labor board that men who strike in connection with a labor dispute retain the status of employes even though under contract not to strike.

(3) The tribunal consented to review a decision denying enforcement of a labor board order directing the Sands Manufacturing Company of Cleveland, O., to reinstate employes.

It was ruled by the lower court that the company had negotiated with its employes until they chose shutting down the plant in preference to hiring outsiders to work in one department.

The Tribunal refused to interfere with the convictions of Charles (Lucky) Luciano and five others sentenced to long prison terms as members of a New York City vice ring.

Douglas Fairbanks, motion picture star and producer, failed to obtain a review of a lower court decision that he pay an $72,135 additional income tax for 1927, 1928 and 1929.

Nab Scores Shy Auto Stickers

Motor Vehicles registry inspectors and 12 specially assigned Boston policemen halted scores of motorists in important arteries today as they launched a drive on all inspected automobiles.

No excuses were accepted for lack of stickers certifying lights, brakes and horns.

Superintendent Edward Fallon had two officers assigned to the North End, four in the West End, four in South Boston, two in Charlestown and four in Back Bay.

On Beacon street, Back Bay, where street repairs slowed down traffic near Massachusetts avenue, registry inspectors stopped non-sticker cars and examined them.

On Neponset bridge, Dorchester, other inspectors halted motorists as they slowed down for street repair-work there.

The drive, which is state-wide, was scheduled to begin October 1, but was postponed because of the hurricane.

All those found with improper or faulty equipment face revocation of registration. Two hundred inspectors are working with various police departments.

Dope Suspect Is Held in $25,000

Trailed for 24 hours, Walter H. Jackson, 36, of Shawmut avenue, South End, was arrested today and charged with possession of 200 grains of heroin.

Police alleged Jackson has a long dope traffic record and has a large clientele in the South End. He was held in $25,000 for arraignment tomorrow.

Burglars Loot Warmuth's of $1500 and Safe

Forcing a side-elevator door into Warmuth's restaurant in Devonshire street, thieves carted away a 350-pound safe containing $1500 early today.

Employes opening the restaurant for the day's business discovered the theft. Police said the thieves wheeled the safe out a rear door and loaded it on a truck, obviously intending to crack it later.

The time of the break could not be determined, and officers feared the looters had several hours' start before the theft was discovered.

Suitor Is Held In Auto Death

LOWELL, Oct. 10—Alleged hit-and run driver whose car killed his prospective father-in-law, Frank J. Duchnowski, 25, of Lawrence, was released on $2000 bail in district court today after pleading not guilty to manslaughter.

The dead man is Adam Kasparowicz, 58, of Dracut, who was killed by a car on Orchard road.

Only a few hours before, he had given permission to the young man to marry his daughter Mary, and conferred his blessing.

The elder man was walking along the road after visiting a friend in the village when he was run down.

The daughter of the victim and the fiancee of the accused couldn't talk today, but her brothers expressed no malice. They said they were sure it was an accident and that Duchnowski lost his head.

Auto in Crash as Theft Is Reported

While one man was at Brighton police station today reporting his auto stolen, two others arrived complaining their cars had been hit by the missing machine.

At almost the same time, cruising car officers reported they had found the stolen auto abandoned in Commonwealth avenue, Brighton. The owner is Rudolph Burroughs, Dorest street, Waban.

Widow to Push Dodge Will Fight

PONTIAC, Mich., Oct. 10 (INS)—Mrs. Laurine MacDonald Dodge, 21, widow of motor millions heir Daniel G. Dodge, today petitioned probate court for a new accounting of his $10,000,000 will.

Paul Oren, her attorney, said he wanted the final accounting reopened so he could examine the expenditures. Earlier, Oren indicated Mrs. Dodge would contest the will that left her $250,000 and the Manitoulin Island lodge at which Dodge was injured by dynamite during their honeymoon.

He died when he fell from the speedboat on his way to physicians.

AUTO INJURIES FATAL

LAWRENCE, Oct. 10—Angelo Zanni, 70, of Green road, Reading, died today of injuries received when struck by an automobile on Route 28, Saturday.

Son Jim Must Rest

Ride, Swim and Golf Taboo

HOLLISTER, Cal., Oct. 10 (AP)—James Roosevelt, eldest son of President Roosevelt, rested today near a swimming pool in which he is forbidden to swim, near a nine-hole golf course on which he is not allowed to lift a club, adjacent to a stable full of blooded saddle horses he may not mount.

But James, if he wishes, may walk for hours through the 11 gardens which are part of the 20,000-acre ranch on which he is a guest.

James arrived yesterday for a two-month rest as the guest of Walter P. Murphy, railway equipment magnate.

Convalescing from an operation for a stomach ailment, he is not allowed to ride, swim or golf.

Romelle Schneider, Mayo Brothers clinic nurse, sees that he obeys orders. Secret Service men guard the estate gate to see he gets quiet.

U. S. Launches Huge N. E. Flood Control Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (INS)—President Roosevelt today launched a huge-scale flood control program for protection of the New England areas devastated by the recent flood and hurricane.

At the President's direction, Secretary of War Harry Woodring allotted $4,750,000 for immediate use in the Connecticut and Merrimack river basins.

The funds are for use in the Providence, R. I., and Boston districts, and supplement funds made available earlier in the year for authorized flood control projects, including reservoirs and protective works around cities.

This huge sum is expected to be supplemented further by approximately $7,000,000 in PWA and WPA funds. The total of approximately $11,000,000 will be made available, it was learned, for use before the end of the present fiscal year.

Flood Control Curley Pledge

By ALFRED D. WHELTON

Hope for flood control in this section depends upon his election next month for a second term, former Governor James M. Curley said today.

He promised federal food control projects in the Connecticut, Merrimack and Blackstone valleys that will so satisfy this section that a Democratic reign of at least 50 years will result in this state.

The Democratic nominee warned that a Republican governor could not push through an adequate flood control program at Washington as well as he could as an outstanding Democrat.

SEEKS ONLY ONE TERM

At the same time, he announced he wished but a single term as governor to 500 members of the party who gathered at the Parker House to launch a statewide drive for registration.

Charles H. McGlue, chairman of the meeting, invited Governor Hurley, Lieutenant-Governor Kelly and Mayor Tobin, or their representatives to speak, but no one responded.

In his address, Curley congratulated others who had lost in the September primaries for their good sportsmanship in attending his meeting.

SALTONSTALL TALKS

The Curley camp today announced endorsements of his candidacy from the Syrian-Lebanese Democrats, an organization which named Attorney Frederick J. Hadge as chairman of its Boston chapter and Thomas Kurey and Miss Bousard as representatives Miss Frances Bousard as representatives of the chapter on Curley's statewide committee.

Leverett Saltonstall, Republican candidate, struck out at honesty in government in an address at Worcester.

He declared that under his administration, contractors would be able to make honest bids because there would be no "pay-offs" and that as a result, the money of the taxpayers would be wisely spent. Saltonstall also said:

"I shall be elected governor because I stand for hottest service in every department of government. I shall be elected governor because my public record is one of sincerity, integrity and truth. I have always kept every promise I ever made and I always will."

Saltonstall further promised to work unceasingly for the lot of the working man and woman and pointed to benefits to labor passed under his leadership of the House, while his opponent was governor.

The Democratic campaign opens tonight with rallies in Belmont Town Hall, Lusitania Hall, Cambridge, East Junior high school, Watertown, and the Bennett A. A. Hall, Somerville.

The Republican ticket will center in the western part of the state, with stops at Pittsfield, Adams and North Adams, which follows an afternoon rally at Stockbridge.

Sallies Launch $155,000 Drive

With a luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce, the Greater Boston Maintenance Committee of the Salvation Army today opened its 1938-39 drive for funds.

A goal of $155,000 was set for the support of 24 branch organizations in Metropolitan Boston. Those attending the luncheon included:

Mayor Tobin, Jay R. Benton, general chairman of the drive; Colonel Robert E. Goodwin and William G. O'Hare, vice-chairman.

Also J. Leonard Johnson, Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall, Mrs. Francis J. Flagg, Mrs. Frank Sawyer, Allan Forbes, Lt. Col. Donald MacMillan, James G. Reardon, George H. Corey, Arthur T. Lyman, C. F. Weed, and Charles P. Howard.

A. F. of L. Declares War On Smith, Wagner Act

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 10—The American Federation of Labor today set itself squarely against President Roosevelt on an issue bound to bring a record vote showdown in the United States Senate.

Singling out labor relations board member Donald Wakefield Smith of Pennsylvania for a bitter personal attack, the federation voted unanimously to oppose his confirmation by the Senate for a second term of service.

President Roosevelt reappointed Smith during the summer and his confirmation comes up in the Senate upon the convening of the new session of Congress.

The resolution, adopted by the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor here, went further and threw the issue into the November elections.

It directed Federation President William Green to call on all candidates for election to the Senate for a declaration of their attitude toward Smith's confirmation.

The delegates also voted to demand congressional amendment of the Wagner act.

Without a dissenting vote or contraversial debate, the delegates approved resolutions committee reports calling for nine revisions in the labor law to curb the discretionary power of the board.

Convention action following a slashing attack on the board by President Green(who said the federation wanted only a "square deal" and was not opposing or antagonizing President Roosevelt by assailing both his appointee to the board and the board's policies.

ELSIE ROBINSON writes from the woman's viewpoint, discusses every-day affairs and problems, regularly in the Boston American.

Kidnaper of Pair Given Life Term

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 10 (AP)—John Couch, 23, was sentenced to life imprisonment today for kidnaping Miss Peggy Gross and John Cox Fahey, Jr., of St. Louis and leaving them bound near Champlin, Minn., before fleeing to a Northwoods hideout.

Fewer Rail Men, More Freight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—L. E. Keller, research director for the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employes, told the President's fact-finding board today that a million railroad workers are now handling more gross freight bulsiness than 2,000,000 handled 18 years ago.

Keller gave the board statistics showing that the pay of rail workers has dropped 38.6 per cent per freight-ton mile since 1920 while the cost to the public of shipping a ton of freight a mile has declined only 11.1 per cent.

Testimony by the Brotherhoods began the final week of the board's hearings, ordered by the President after the unions voted to strike

Wounded Boy Covers Up Pal

GLOUCESTER, Oct. 10—Richard J. McDonald, 14, who lied, police said, to save his friend from blame, today was recovering at Addison Gilbert Hospital from an abdominal wound suffered at target practice.

The boy told police he had been shot by a stranger. Later, police said, James McIsaac, 14, came to them to report that he had accidentally discharged a target pistol while with McDonald at a rifle range.

THERE'S NO POINT IN LETTING NERVES GET FRAYED!

COCKER SPANIEL

Spaniel family dates back to 1386. Cocker is smallest of family. A very popular pure-bred dog in U. S. Standard colors range from solid blacks, reds, to shades of cream; liver red and combinations. Versatile in the field, can be trained into desirable retriever. Great lover of human family.

HE'S GIVING HIS NERVES A REST

AND SO IS HE

HAVE you noticed how a dog, in the midst of play, suddenly stops and rests? His nerve system—as complicated and high-strung as our own—has signalled that it's time to relax! Man, unfortunately, is less sensitive to the warnings of his nerves. Though nerves may need a restful pause, we are inclined to press on in our absorbing tasks—relentlessly—forgetful of mounting nerve strain. When we find ourselves tense, irritable, upset, we may not even realize why. Make it your pleasant rule to break nerve tension often through the day—TO LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL! Feel how gratefully nerves welcome the mellow intermission that your nearby package of Camels suggests. And not only do smokers find Camel's costlier tobaccos soothing to the nerves—but milder, too—ripe-rich in flavor—completely enjoyable from every angle!

Millions of people who live happily... LET UP— LIGHT UP A CAMEL

FLAGSHIP PILOT, Captain Walter J. Hunter of American Airlines, speaks for his profession when he says: "Ragged nerves and flying don't mix. I head off nerve tension by giving my nerves regular rests—I let up and light up a Camel. I find Camels soothing to the nerves. Camels set a new record with me for true smoking enjoyment."

DID YOU KNOW:

—that the grower of tobacco also cures it—in many cases, in barns equipped with metal flues that apply heat without smoke? That the planter works day and night until the curing process is completed? The selection of Camel's tobaccos requires the services of men familiar with every phase of growing, curing, and aging choice tobacco. It is a well-known fact in the tobacco trade that Camel cigarettes are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic.

"RUSH ASSIGNMENTS, deadlines, phone calls would wreck my nerves," says New York newspaper woman Estelle Karon, "if I didn't pause frequently. I let up often and light up a Camel. Camels soothe my nerves. I work better—get more fun."

Chinese Claim Slaughter of 20,000 Japs

HANKOW, Oct. 10 (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek's headquarters announced today that two Japanese regiments totaling 20,000 men are trapped and annihilated in the area of the Yellow River dikes southeast of Hankow.

The official announcement, received by the navy department as the most complete news ever published, called the victory of the war and said only 20 men of the two brigades left the battle area alive.

The report, received early in the day of the 27th anniversary of the revolution against the Manchu monarchy, said the Japs were overwhelmed by Chinese troops on the banks of the Yellow River, while celebrations of Chinese Independence Day.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 10 (AP)—Japanese dispatches from the Yangtze front reported today that, in effect, Japanese column had fought its way to the ramparts of Suiyuan and that the capture of the important province's capital, 100 miles north of Hankow was expected at any moment.

Plane Crash Death Toll Rises to Four

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Oct. 10 (AP)—The death toll of an airplane crash from a height of 400 feet jumped to four persons today.

Fred Wenzel, 38, of Neillsville, Wis., succumbed to the burns and injuries suffered when the plane exploded and he was thrown 20 feet into clothing a blaze. Two passengers and the elderly occupant of the apartment on the second floor of the frame structure were killed instantly.

Man in Eye-Swap Waits Impatiently for Vision

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 10 (AP)—A young machinist courted the hazardous hours with the bandages which will be lifted from his right eye, where a surgeon transplanted a healthy cornea removed from a dead man's eye.

The surgeon who performed the delicate operation said it will be ten days or more before he can determine whether the operation on Walter Van Horn, 26, of nearby Verona, will restore his normal vision.

Van Horn lost the sight of the eye last year when a chunk flew off an emery wheel and imbedded itself in the pupil. The injury healed but so much opaque scar tissue covered the cornea that light could not penetrate.

Franklin Parsons, 25-year-old Beaver Falls WPA worker lost his left eye in an accident while at work. The cornea was undamaged. In the delicate operation the lens of the eye, formed in Parsons' eye, a sphere segment of Parsons' cornea was sketched into the square window cut in the damaged right eye of the machinist.

Parsons said, "I'm glad my eye was good to somebody. It wasn't any good to me."

Dr. Eye and Ear Hospital re ported Van Horn was doing very fine.

Jitterbugs Put Banjoes in Limbo

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—"Jitterbugs" and the Census Bureau today are playing havoc with the manufacture of sound-swinging musical instruments.

Comparing 1935 and 1937 production, the statisticians found that banjos, guitars, mandolins and ukuleles fell off radically in demand. The culprit of other string music was by swing bands including various saxophones, clarinets and drums whipped up weird

Czechs Turn to U.S. For Railway Loans

VITKOVICE, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 10 (AP)—Czechoslovakia's private industry threatened with extinction as a result of the republic's dismemberment turned toward the United States today for capital to rebuild plants and railways.

Industrial leaders said they hoped especially to obtain loans in the United States either public or private to build railways and highways through Czech territory to replace lines and roads now cut by German and Polish areas.

DIES OF NATURAL CAUSES

Death of William Chaves, 78, found after police had broken into his cottage on Bedwin street, Lynn today was attributed to natural causes by Medical Examiner Nathaniel P. Byrd.

Move To Halt Palestine War

JERUSALEM, Oct. 10 (AP)—British armed forces in Palestine undertook today a new and mighty drive to stamp out terrorism.

The home government's latest reinforcements for the empire's outpost in strife-torn Holy Land [illegible] approximate total of 25,000 officers and soldiers in the Holy Land.

Extensive operations in the [illegible] section, scene of many previous Arab outbreaks against Jews and British, were launched early today.

Two persons were killed and [illegible] wounded Saturday and Sunday as the Arabs stepped up their campaign of terror that started [illegible] against the Jews.

Destruction of the property of Arabs is viewed as the most [illegible] punishment for participants in disturbances and plans for [illegible] part of action.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's cabinet and Viscount Halifax, chief of the empire's foreign office, conferred in London with Malcolm MacDonald, secretary for colonies, [illegible] Herbert Morrison, minister of supply, [illegible] commissioner for Palestine, [illegible] from Jerusalem for the conferences.

Mexico Ousts Refugee Jews

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 10 (INS)—Interior Minister Garcia Tellez today ordered the deportation back to Europe of 250 Jewish refugees who fled to Mexico from Germany and Austria.

The order to the refugees was issued by Tellez, explaining:

"Foreign elements, who failed to present the required applications to have themselves interned in Mexico as refugees, have settled down in Mexico City under the classification of 'tourists.'

"Their expulsion is fully justified. This should serve as a warning to those hereafter who pretend to provide themselves with a classification to which they are not entitled.

N. E. Jews' Holy Land Protest Gets U. S. Eye

A petition of New England Jews [illegible] protest [illegible] coming of Parliament to further [illegible] question was presumably under [illegible] Washington today.

It was adopted and put on [illegible] at a meeting of 200 leaders of Jewry at the Parker House.

The petitioners said they had already [illegible] government and condemned immigration restrictions to keep the Jews a permanent minority in their homeland and placate the Arabs.

Some of the speakers were Elihu D. Stone, Ralph P. Bass, president [illegible] Max Leonard Zeamer, Judge [illegible] Samuel Silverman and Mrs. [illegible]

'Gravy' Letter In Graves Trial

this phrase "found location"?" A—I think he meant through the insurance company through which he worked

A—How did you understand this phrase "making change necessary?" A—Change of address.

Judge Williams here announced he would admit the telegrams, the radiogram and the letter in evidence despite Chamberlain's objection

Doyle asked Osborn:

"Other than the $5 or $10 you gave Graves in St. Louis, did you give him any other money?"

LETTER WITH MONEY

"We paid his hotel bill of $207, and gave him $150," Osborn admitted.

Later a letter written by Osborn to Graves on November 9 1936 was introduced in evidence. Osborn admitted this letter accompanied his personal check to Graves for $200

The letter read:

"I'd like to help you when I can and you won't need to acknowledge this. You can arrange to pay this back at your convenience when your business permits. This is a matter just between you and me."

Assistant District Attorney Doyle then questioned Osborn about the telegram

Q—What did you do with it? A—I gave it to Stuart Rand.

Q—Did you send Graves anything? A—I did not.

Q—Did you ever have any arrangement with Graves to have messages sent in code A—Not exactly.

Doyle here introduced the second telegram, which read:

"Two same stop consoling nemmase (correct) first notice today."

Q—Did you understand it? A—No

Did you communicate with Graves as a result of it? A—No.

The radiogram next was introduced. It read:

"Am leaving bank. Advise remaining here."

Q—Did you communicate with Graves as a result of this message? A—No.

Osborn testified he did not communicate with or see Graves again until December 1, 1936, when he met him in the Statler Hotel here. The messages all are dated November of that year, from the Pacific Coast

Doyle then introduced the "Gravey" letter

Addressed to "Dear Oz," it read in part

'SEWS UP CASE'

"I'm sorry we didn't click on telephone information. I hope you are satisfied with set-up as it is now. However, I believe Mr. Rand should make a move on the matter of compensation, as I believe the time I lost in St. Louis and the work I have done warrants it. . .

"This financial arrangement would be a great help to me at this time. I feel I should receive 50 per cent of the amount agreed on at once. I have given information which probably sews up the case and helps a great deal beyond a doubt . .

"I do expect remuneration for the work I have already done, up to 50 per cent of the amount agreed upon. Appreciate getting a check next week

"Yours truly,
(Signed) "GRAVEY."

Osborn already has testified that he went in search of Graves in St. Louis at the behest of Rand attorney for the Herald-Traveler Corp., against which former Mayor James M. Curley had filed, and still has pending, the $500,000 suit

This suit was the aftermath of articles published concerning the Boston Finance Commission's investigation of the General Equipment Corporation's water-damage suit against the city, in the settlement of which Graves acted as go-between

Graves has pleaded guilty to a charge that he perjured himself before the finance commission. He is now being tried on a second perjury charge—namely, that he lied when he stated under oath in court that the General Equipment settlement was "fixed" for $40,000

Largely as a result of this testimony by Graves, Curley and Dr Joseph Santosuosso were held to have received the money. This was in a civil suit by the city to "recover" the alleged "payoff."

Birth Control Plea Loses

they argued through counsel, the law was not designed to apply to prescriptions written by duly qualified physicians "when necessary for the preservation of life or health."

UNDER SWEEPING BAN

In a sweeping opinion, the state supreme court ruled that intent of the Massachusetts law was clear and that it did, in fact, specifically forbid spread of birth control information under any and all circumstances.

The United States Supreme Court today, declining jurisdiction, apparently left the decision of the Massachusetts state courts unassailed and still in force.

Whether further appeal could still be taken by the defendants, on other issues, remained undetermined

First Come Get Call For Jitterbug Seats

Special ticket selling hours have been put into effect at Boston Garden in order to facilitate the purchase of tickets for the Benny Goodman-Rudy Vallee "Swing vs. Straight battle of music of Monday, Oct. 24.

From 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. daily (except Sundays) an experienced crew of ticket sellers will be in constant attendance at the Garden box office, ready for either telephone or personal ticket calls.

They have plenty of fine seats available and are selling them on the basis

"First come, first served."

DEMAND HEAVY

Demand for the general admission tickets which entitle both to unreserved seats and to all the dancing and entertainment has been most gratifying and heartening to the promoters of the classic that Boston Post Cane Fund charity which benefits needy children.

These general admission tickets are priced at $1.

The best of the reserved seats at the Garden, which are in the lower sections of the Garden, are priced at $2.20.

With the musical feud only two weeks off with the most famous orchestra leaders in the country participating, interest in the event has reached a high pitch in New England's capital. Ticket sales have been unprecedented, it was said.

There may be some room left for those who wait, but the most popular sections such as the lower floor are filled at present.

'Young-Age' Pension Latest! So What's Next?

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10 (AP)—Two tongue-in-cheek college students stacked a pile of milk bottles tops on the table today and started campaigning for a new pension scheme—"$30 every Friday for folks under 30."

Bill Brown, editor of the Daily Bruin, and Bob Schiller, senior of the University of California at Los Angeles, said they got the idea from the "$30 every Thursday" referendum to be voted on in November by Californians.

Since the idea of $30 a week for people over 50 is to create wide spread prosperity," they said "we propose to give $50 a week to people under 30, to create still more prosperity."

They outlined these campaign arguments:

Younger people (0 to 30) have occasion to spend more money than older people.

The pensions would give, to those under 30, something to do while waiting to become 50—it might be called a dress rehearsal.

It is more democratic to give everybody pensions than to give pensions to a few.

The milk bottle tops?

They would be of $1 denomination and as any pension payments would be made with them. Every time one changed hands the receiver would pay a penny and push a hole in the bottle top.

"Thus a top would be self-liquidating. By the time one changed hands 100 times, it would have done away with itself, as well as paid for itself.

"The plan, of course, will attract practically all citizens of the United States to California. That's just what we want. More people mean more purchasing power."

Japan and Its People

By F. W. KELLOGG

Retired Newspaper Publisher and World Traveler

Personally, I believe that the Japanese are tremendously astounded to find that the people of the United States resent such a procedure on their part. The Japanese mind would reason:

Was it not exactly this same procedure by Commodore Perry that compelled the Japanese ports to open to the world, and the Japanese people to trade with the world?

Did not Commodore Perry point his armament at Tokyo directly at the people of Japan when he forced them to open their ports to the trade of Japan?

Was not Perry a willing agent of duly forced upon them?

Did not the Japanese people in a very short time learn that Commodore Perry and the United States had done Japan and the Japanese people a very great service?

Did not the opening of the ports of Japan under threat and compulsion by Commodore Perry result in enormous good to the Japanese people?

OK then, "Why is not the same procedure the course of the Japanese people to follow in dealing with [illegible] Chinese people?

That is the question in my mind and what the Japanese people feel that they have a right to put to the world. Some of the people against the unfairness of the war [illegible] believe that they are firmly of the opinion that the enemy of the whole world is [illegible] with its [illegible] of Shanghai.

The Japanese people are very proud of the fact that they have very large investment in the Hawaiian Isles and of the fact the Japanese population of these islands live in peace and harmony with their fellow white citizens.

They are proud of the fact that there has been no racial controversy between the Japanese and white citizens. [illegible] Sunday page publication [illegible] Honolulu [illegible] Japan on [illegible] what the Japanese are most proud of the United States citizenship and the fact that they live in peace and amity with the other citizens of the United States who are residents of the islands.

I was in Japan at the time of the bombing of the Panay, the small river gun-boat of the United States that navigated the Yangtse River.

When there was no question but that the bombing had been done by Japanese airplanes and when the bombing became known in Japan there was an immediate wave that swept over the nation and a movement on the part of all the people to make voluntary subscriptions to pay whatever damages the United States would demand for the bombing of the Panay, and the ships of the Standard Oil Company that were bombed at the same time.

As I remember, money needed for such payments was over-subscribed by several million yen, or more than a million dollars.

MARKETS BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN COMMENT

BOSTON, MONDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1938 18

HOURLY

PLAY-BY-PLAY IN THE STOCK MARKET

After an active start on the upside today the market slipped before moderate selling and despite comeback attempts turned in a mixed performance.

10-11. Prices continued to push forward in initial dealings. The start was active with advances running from fractions to around a point. American Tel. had the maximum to 148 duPont showed up at 143, for a gain of 1½. Some leaders ticked backwards. General Motors Nickel and Chrysler were behind since, making same. Texas Corp. sampled one. Large blocks of stock had changed hands and the tape was late a most from the first trade. The market generally turned easy. After the early burst however, activity slowed. By the hours end losers were in the majority but it was not serious. Approximately 2,000,000 shares traded.

11-12. A spark-lot of selling orders continued to dampen bullish ardor. But here and there an extreme ess was shaded. The list took on a irregular or mixed appearance. U. S. Case slumped 3 but it was exceptional and not representative of the market as a whole. The cuts were still under pressure on price structure and production fears. DuPont best portrayed the action to this time. After its sleepy opening comb it had roughed off for a minor fractional gain. Union Pacific was one best among the rails. Steels and motors were on the offside and the market seemed leaderless without these spade leadership. Volume 900,000 shares.

12-1—Buyers tried the cold trick of rotation. Failing to rearouse speculative sentiment through the motor and steel group and with the rails dull, the power and utility shares were given a whirl. The group came forward nicely but little was accomplished elsewhere. Some of the building material stocks tried to go along but Johns Manville was the only one to really get anywhere. The movement served one purpose, however, in that the edge was taken off the decline elsewhere. There was a late let-down and losses still in dominance. Volume reached 1,300,000 shares.

1-2. The foreign situation seemed to be playing a bit more prominent part. Hitler's speech reaffirming armament programs upset some observers. Bonds held a steady course and the curb had turned quite mixed. Oils were soft on the big board. Blue chips sunk back for the most part and such activity as there was centered around low priced specialties. Coppers lacked rallying vigor despite the latest rise in red metal prices. The increase in output a chance was seen as the reason. All told the market had a tired look. One which could be easily explained by the sharp rise of the past week and a half. Transfers totaled 1,540,000 shares.

Recovery Is Entering New Phase

By LEWIS HANEY
Professor of Economics, New York University

NEW YORK, Oct. 10—Last week after hesitating on Tuesday, the stock market leaped ahead on Wednesday and remained firm to strong through the very close on Saturday. The composite averages made gains ranking from 2% to nearly six points.

A. the end the market registered a new high closing price for the year bringing the figure up to a level not reached since October, 1937.

Bond averages also rose buoyantly.

The volume of trading in stocks was about two million shares larger than in the preceding week (Incidentally, the price of Stock Exchange seats turned definitely upward).

We find that all of the dozen active stocks were gainers. More than that, these stocks tell an interesting story of the rapid kindling of speculative fires; for among the most active, we now find three low-priced issues which have been 'speculative favorites" in past periods of "public participation." (These were Radio, Loft, and Standard Brands)

Another point to note is that New York Central again appeared among the leaders in activity, and signalled a rise in "the rails" which has already carried some averages through their preceding highs.

Thus the Dow theory addicts may at last have been drawn into the market - perhaps at about the high for the current big upswing in the industrials.

Among the main groups of stocks there were few sour performances. The cuts were slightly reactionary on news of some price-cutting in crude oil and gasoline.

The utilities lacked the sustained buoyancy of some groups. (Evidently some people still lack faith in the words of the "White House Spokesman," who last week denied that he intended to spread the TVA system or to prevent private utility financing.)

Personally I am inclined to think that the unpopularity of the move to put the federal government into the local utility business is becoming so evident that the "spokesman" has to mean what he says this time; in that case, the utility stocks are "behind the market."

The upswing since September 26 has had two phases and is now entering a third. In the first, the shorts covered and shrewd investors "averaged down" or picked up bargains.

In the second, which began last Tuesday, heated bulls who had missed the boat reinstated their buys, or reached up for the positions they desired. That carried through Thursday.

Now I think, "the public" is coming in, and, with increasing irregularity, the market is getting ready for a shakeout.

Reserve Banks' Net Profits Up

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (U.P.)—Members of the Federal Reserve Bank system showed a small increase in net profits in the first half of 1938 despite a material decrease in current earnings, the Federal Reserve board reported today.

Current earnings in the first six months of the year amounted to $631,000,000, the lowest since the first half of 1936, but net profits amounted to $145,000,000 slightly better than the last half of 1937.

BAR GOLD HIGHER

LONDON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Bar gold 113s. 10d., up 5½d. (Equivalent $23.76).

SILVER PRODUCTION

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—Production of silver in August in all countries except Mexico amounted to 16,491,000 fine ounces, compared with 15,097,000 in July, according to figures prepared for the trade.

Relief Cost Shows 21-2 P. C. Increase

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The Social Security board estimates that public assistance to the needy cost about 2½ per cent more in August than in July.

It said preliminary reports indicated that costs incurred for this purpose by the federal, state and local governments totaled $259,100,000 during the month.

COPPER PRICE LIFTED

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—Leading producers of copper advanced the price of domestic metal ⅛ of a cent a pound to 10¾ cents today, making the third markup this month and bringing the quotation to the highest level since last January 18.

Commodities Outlook Mixed

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW
Financial Editor

While most followers of the market take at least a cursory view of the paths followed by commodity prices they very often fail to hook up their outlook with the stock market itself.

With the above thought in mind, we have collected some ideas concerning the outlook for important commodities.

While bearishness on wheat is letting up and we are told that some astute traders are warning against pressing the shorts there is not likely to be much buying. A sharp break might uncover good accumulation but if it does not take place soon buyers will [illegible] for the closing of Great Lakes navigation and a pickup in export demand.

Corn is not considered for important buying just now, despite its cheapness, because the crop movement will soon be in full swing.

RUBBER IN FAVOR

Rubber is in favor on reaction. The December option is favored since it will not be affected by new quota figures released in January. Its statistical position is considered strong. Consumption is large and large automotive sales are looked for in the last quarter.

In general where statistical positions are sound commodities that are not artificially controlled are greatest favor. That means metals, hides, etc.

The Dow-Jones rail index closed above its early summer high last Saturday and many technical observers say it heralds a new leg of the advance. Actually, the close was not enough above the previous peak to satisfy all followers of the dual average confirmation theory. They ask a close at or above 31.39.

Very often in the past the margin of penetration has provided insurance against a false move. We will wait this time, too, even though the breadth and velocity of the market Saturday makes the penetration appear authentic.

Hitler Victory May End Race Persecutions

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER
International News Service Economic Commentator

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (INS)—Germany, after its recent diplomatic arrangements, opens a new chapter in its economic history.

Some competent observers believe the future will be less destructive to human liberties than the record of the last five and a half years.

One theory is that with Germany escaping from its post-war inferiority complex through recognition as at least an equal in recent international pacts, it will be more normal in its behavior.

One important industrialist, with international connections, predicts that there will be a soft pedalling of religious persecution. Only time will tell.

The argument runs, however, that having achieved new prestige and important territorial concessions, that the need for rabble-rousing and the baiting of minorities as scapegoats has passed.

The dictatorship will no longer be able to entertain the populace by cursing foreigners, but must make good on its promise to raise the material well being of the German people.

The logical sequence of events will make it clear that Germany needs technical genius scientists, inventors and organizers irrespective of race.

The professed economics of the [illegible] Germany is to avoid importing articles for which Germany has the natural resources and the human labor. It is argued that it does not pay to import competitive items as long as any German workers are unemployed.

It has likewise been argued that national defense requires not making Germany dependent on imports of vital supplies from other nations.

Outside critics have been erroneously and prematurely predicting an economic collapse on the ground of disturbed international trade and international credit. It should be borne in mind that the German adventure is in the direction of becoming less dependent than before on international trade.

As for credit, they are seeking to carry on limited foreign trade by swapping goods for goods.

In view of the growing importance of the new Germany, it is important to perceive the Teuton economic policies realistically even though we cordially disapprove of the racial persecution and destruction of civil liberties in Germany.

Copper Output To Be Increased

LONDON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Copper companies which have been operating under production restrictions designed to hold output nearer to consumption announced today they will step up operations to 105 per cent of capacity from 95 per cent effective October 15.

Principal producers throughout the world outside of the United States and Russia are affected by the scheme, which has been operating several years as an aid toward price stabilization in world markets.

Film Fans Get Chance at Cash

Contest Fans, what would you do if you were KING?

Put on your thinking cap and let us have your answer. You may be the winner of a valuable cash award, or a pair of guest theater tickets.

The Boston American is conducting a novel contest based on the new Paramount picture, "If I Were King," which will have its first Boston showing on Wednesday at the Metropolitan Theater.

In the film Ronald Colman plays the role of Francois Villon, swashbuckling vagabond-poet who becomes ruler of France for a glorious week, only to be banished from Paris when he dares to fall in love with a royal princess.

The rules of the contest are simple. All you need to do is to write a letter of 100 words or less telling what you would do if you were king.

Send your answers to the Contest Editor of the Boston American, 5 Winthrop Square, Boston, Mass. All entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, Thursday, October 13.

Prizes total $100, and will be awarded as follows: 1st, $50; 2nd, $25; 3rd, 10; 4th, $5 and five prizes of $2 each. To each of the next 25 will be awarded one pair of guest tickets to the Metropolitan Theater.

MOTHS

The Editor Says:

Nelson Harding's cartoon, already dread, [illegible] FATE OF DEMOCRACY, if all forms of [illegible] are not RECOGNIZED and SUPPRESSED.

As President Hook of the National Association of Manufacturers [illegible] this Congressional body has performed a priceless service in bringing the machinations of Communism to the attention of the whole country.

And as he also said, it will perform a public service of the highest order in exposing the subversive activities of Fascist and Nazi organizations and individuals.

All subversive is undemocratic and UNAMERICAN, and is aimed at the DESTRUCTION OF AMERICAN DEMOCRACY. No man or woman interested in the present and future welfare of the United States can afford to ignore that fact.

THE GREAT RISE in security prices in the principal stock exchanges of the world since the Four Power Pact averted war refutes the [illegible] myth that "capitalists make war."

Behavior of buyers and sellers in the various bourses demonstrated that dominant capitalistic thought that peace was bullish, or favorable to gains, whereas the prospect of war was bearish, or unfavorable.

A foreshadowing of the attitude of the world's investors and speculators was made more than a fortnight ago in anticipation of the news by Mr. Rukeyser, of the Hearst newspapers, who pointed out in a speech in Baltimore, Md., "Make no mistake about the fact that modern warfare breeds poverty and distress among victors and vanquished. Great as is the direct destruction of life and property in modern war, that cost is small indeed compared with the still more catastrophic effects of upsetting for a long term of years economic balance and equilibrium . . ."

War not only breeds millions of human tragedies; it also destroys property and impairs the mechanism of prosperity in the modern power-driven business world.

Peace, on the other hand, generates new enthusiasm everywhere for getting back to work, and augments the supply of human necessities and comfort goods.

Peace injects new motives into the lives of self supporting men and women in all nations.

HARVARD EXPRESSES deep regret to the American Legion for the disruption of the Cambridge Post parade last week by a group of students. Dean A. Chester Hanford says, "The matter is being carefully investigated by the University, with a view to taking disciplinary action."

Public opinion strongly supports that stand; the conduct of these [illegible] young men, particularly the intimidation of children was certainly not worthy of students eligible for admission to the great institution on the Charles.

Our suspicion is that this group's severest punishment will be experienced in the campus and in the fraternity halls. Harvard men rarely know how to handle hoodlums, also those that act like hoodlums.

ONLY NINE DAYS remain for persons desiring to cast ballots in the November 8 election to register as voters. Wednesday, October 19, is the deadline; no registrations can be made after that.

Every man and woman eligible to participate in the selection of our next Governor and other important officials ought to make certain TODAY that he will be able to do so.

Our public [illegible] should be REPRESENTATIVE. They should reflect the views and opinions of the greatest possible number of our people.

Obviously, the only way to assure that kind of government is to vote and to urge relatives, neighbors and friends also to vote.

The Human Side of the News

Scholars Echo "No War" Cry

By EDWIN C. HILL

JAMES BRYCE, [illegible] writer of [illegible] was perhaps a few years ahead of his time when he created the master psychologist who came to rule the world because of his knowledge of exact [illegible] to prescribed thought and action.

That was about 25 years ago. His story was "The Thinking Machine." And it [illegible] who had for [illegible] all the springs of human action was [illegible].

The big war was in the offing and this [illegible] of fiction foreshadowed not only the high pressure war propaganda among all contenders but the new understanding and use of psychological profits and investments in the post-war years.

Just now a group of American World War [illegible] the most in Washington's [illegible] and performance [illegible] of our psychology today, and [illegible] may be [illegible] Many of [illegible] men drawn from the [illegible] world behind) get Americans into the big war and [illegible] our participation, [illegible] all up to [illegible] after we were in. They [illegible] were [illegible].

MASTER PSYCHOLOGISTS wield a mighty [illegible]. But here's an interesting [illegible] of affairs. These men now gathering at Washington are supposing their enemy is [illegible] what it is not to get us into war but to keep us out of it. They read [illegible] and Roosevelt's speech "Why Men Fight," and seek an answer to [illegible] eternally insistent question.

They don't agree. Some of them think that the human animal is just naturally pugnacious and that we will always have war. Others think that war psychology is always manufactured and that people left alone without the [illegible] hands and propaganda never would [illegible] each other.

BUT THE POINT IS THAT NONE OF THESE MEN WANT WAR.

IT IS EVIDENT that, if today certain off-stage powers should decide to shove us into the European madness, they would not find the great academicians [illegible] ready to heel as they did in 1916. Nor the rest of us either.

There is, among the peoples of the world, a profound disillusionment as to the glory of war. As to Germany, whence rolls the tidal wave of "Sieg Heil" when Der Fuehrer speaks, there is no [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

YOU MAKE your own luck. Build your own breaks. Luck isn't a happy accident, the mysterious perquisite of some fortunate folk. We aren't "born lucky or unlucky."

LUCK IS THE LOGICAL CONSEQUENCE OF DEFINITE ACTION AND ANYONE WHO WILL WORK FOR GOOD LUCK CAN HAVE IT. Indeed there is no way to avoid it! You are building your luck, one way or another and no power on earth can save you from the result of your own building.

Luck happens because we make it happen. We make it happen by looking for it, expecting it. We all face the same mass of circumstances. But no two people see the SAME THINGS in that mass.

FOR EXAMPLE, three men are entering a country village. A carpenter, a politician, an artist. All three see the same scene, the same people, but each one finds that which interests him personally. The carpenter finds BUILDING in that scene; the politician finds VOTES; the artist finds COLOR and FORM. So each one of them finds what he expects in life.

Luck is as we take it. Fate is what we make it. No man can dictate what will happen TO him, but each man can, to an increasing degree, dictate what will happen IN him. Each man can decide what he will look for in life. And how he will interpret it after he finds it.

Two men see the same scene but one will interpret it alike. One man sees reason for hope and another excuse for despair. One sees the challenge of a great adventure, another, the mockery of certain failure.

Each man finds that answer which best suits his own optimism or cynicism, eagerness, laziness, conceit or humility, courage or cowardice, gentleness or brutality, stupidity or understanding. Each man finds what he seeks—AND OUT OF THAT FINDING BUILDS HIS LUCK.

YOU GET what you expect. But expecting means more than sitting pretty, playing safe, muttering trick phrases and smiling.

You do not make your luck or break it in one moment, with one act, by one decision. You are always making it, always breaking it. You are making today the luck which will be yours ten years hence. Every decision you make affects your luck. There are no "unimportant" acts or decisions—they are all important, tremendously important. Everything you wish, say or do—everything you express, avoid or duck—leaves its mark on your mind, its deposit within your spirit. And through those marks, out of those deposits, WOULD BUILD YOUR LUCK.

"Are there lucky people—unlucky people?" Indeed, there are! If you are studying engineering, or medicine, or religion, or dressmaking, you will stumble across problems relating to your specialty on every hand, won't you?

And by the same token, if you are concentrating on opportunity you will find opportunity on every hand—or if you are consumed with a grudge you will find fresh fuel for your fire on every hand.

Good luck draws good luck; bad luck draws bad. "ASK, AND IT SHALL BE GIVEN YOU; SEEK, AND YE SHALL FIND; KNOCK, AND IT SHALL BE OPENED UNTO YOU."

Seek what? That's up to you!

TO HIM, DEATH-DEALING WEAPONS REVEAL THEIR SECRETS
State Police Captain Charles Van Amburgh, Ballistics Expert, Examines Revolvers

Girl About Town

by Mary X. Sullivan

"THE bullet that killed the victim was fired from that gun."

These words, spoken by Captain Charles J. Van Amburgh have been the decisive point in many a murder case and have helped to establish the guilt or innocence of scores of defendants.

Captain Van Amburgh is the head of the ballistics bureau of the state police. He not only knows all about firearms in action and reaction, but he is also a compendium of information about the history of guns.

Massachusetts was the first state to establish a ballistics department. It was the Sacco-Vanzetti case that brought it about; during the famous trial the captain was in the employ of the Remington Arms Company, was called as an expert witness and shortly afterward he was appointed head of the brand new bureau.

He will point out to you, if you visit his office, how every gun has its own characteristics. Just as no two people have identical fingerprints, so there is an irrefutable tale told by the scratches and markings left on a bullet by the gun from which it is discharged. He will let you look at them through the microscope in his laboratory, too.

The captain, a charming, gray-haired gentleman, has passed on his knowledge to his son, Captain Charles P. Van Amburgh, who is now his assistant. The younger expert qualified recently in the case of the murder of the Somerville storekeeper, for which St. Sauveur and Green are sentenced to die.

HAVE you tried to buy any leopard skin lately? We have just found out that it is very expensive, and why. A Boston girl who has a leopard-trimmed coat thought it would be nice to have a muff to match but was appalled at the price, for leopard has in recent years been one of the moderately priced furs. The salesman explained that it comes from Ethiopia, and that since the Mussolini visit there has been very little available. Haile Selassie's boys were busy with guns, but not shooting at leopards, we gather.

SPEAKING of boys and girls who made good in the city of many Cambridge residents will be interested to know that Joseph Curtin, who has done well on big-time radio and in the theater, plays the role of Grant Cummings in the Helen Mencken program, "Her Second Husband." And Mary Braggiotti, who has taken over sister-in-law Gloria's fashion column in the New York Post, is a former Brookline girl, the daughter of Mrs. George Fergusen Smith. Mary's husband is Stiano Braggiotti, the actor member of that talented and colorful socialite family.

OF ALL the new dances of the past 10 years, none seems to have caught on with all ages like the Lambeth Walk. It's easy to do, and such fun that even dignified bankers, who haven't trod a measure in years, refuse to be dragged home before the music stops. We went to look on and remained to prance. That Goodman-Vallee jitterbug contest at the Boston Garden should make history!

New York Cavalcade

by Louis Sobol

NO TWO BROTHERS were ever more unalike than Theodore Dreiser and Paul Dresser. Dreiser, the novelist, is non-gregarious, careless of dress, careful of his earnings. Dresser, the song writer, was a convivial mixer, addicted to almost dudish attire, and a genial spendthrift. In his 50s, when he died, Dresser, who had earned close to three-quarters of a million, was almost broke. Those who knew him say he never turned down a request for a loan or spurned an appeal for aid.

Paul Dresser has become a tradition, as has Victor Herbert—as George Gershwin is becoming—as Irving Berlin is already—though still alive and enjoying the fruits of his alert and sentimental genius. Herbert, like Dresser, was reckless with his money.

SUPERSTITIOUS BROADWAY insists upon its macabre trinities—and waits patiently for destiny's tragic fulfillment. Thus, in Composer Con Conrad's recent death, it sees the final page of another sad chapter. For Conrad was the discoverer of the ill-fated Russ Columbo and when the crooner and the seductive beauty from New Orleans, Dorothy Dell, were preparing to elope, it was Conrad who thrust himself between them and insisted they should wait until their careers had developed.

Columbo advanced to radio and cinema fame and Dorothy Dell was heading toward screen stardom when violent death parted them forever—a few months apart. And now Conrad has joined them and Broadway is certain this is another one of those "death-in-threes."

THERE IS talk now of reviving the unfettered Bohemianism of the Greenwich Village which inspired, so it is claimed, the blossoming of the liberal talents of Edgar Allen Poe, Thomas Paine, Walt Whitman, Eugene O'Neill, Jack London and John Masefield.

Here, according to the earnest young women who have asked aid in furthering the Village renaissance, the intellects of another day convened over cafe tables or brooded divine thoughts, later set on paper in dimly lit, bare garrets.

Well, maybe but our current crop of geniuses do very well in their elaborate, well-lighted studios and country palaces and develop inspirational literature in occasional huddles over festive and costly viands and wines and amidst opulent surroundings of the swank saloons and hotel dining rooms.

Genius is too well rewarded these swiftly-paced days to seek out deliberate starvation and drab settings.

This doesn't mean that there will be no more crack-pot purposes and half-baked experiments. But it does mean that they will come harder and that, if they are jammed through, Tommy Corcoran's strategy [illegible] on the jugular. There will be more bitterness, resentment and rebellion than ever.

These jugular gentlemen came into their own right after the 1936 elections. It was they who cooked up the astonishing one-man government legislative program of 1937 and they who shoved party leaders aside and undertook to bum's-rush it through Congress by bulldozing Senators and Representatives.

Without exaggeration it was a tragedy. With the enthusiastic majority that had elected Mr. Roosevelt, he had an era of good feeling on his doorstep.

BUT IMMEDIATELY after his election he crossed with the jugular boys. Whenever he saw a pair of ears he slapped them down. His program almost completely stalled. The only principal part of it which he got as dictated, the Agriculture Act, is faring. The unsuccessful purge has split his following in the party.

On the advice of his jugular-hating [illegible] the battered business [illegible] has battered his own friends, battered the taxpayers and, if he didn't batter anguished labor, he did little to help it. His whole course since 1937 is a mess and the cause is apparent.

The President is not naturally a jugular-hitter. He is more of a smoother and a sweeter. It was wrong to dress him in [illegible] clothes after. What this nation needs is a new secretary and a new staff of directors. We [illegible] coming elections [illegible] predict that result? Probably not.

Wears Picturesque Wedding Gown

By BETTY ALDEN

SOMETHING old and something new blended in a very unique fashion to form the picturesque wedding gown worn by Arlette Mossey when she became the bride of Edward ("Bud") D. Fullerton, Jr., Saturday afternoon in St. Andrew's Church, Wellesley . . .

The "something old" was her Grandmother Mossey's wedding gown, fashioned of heavy white faille and made with a tight bodice, laced up the front like Little Bo Peep's with white satin ribbon, and a voluminous skirt which flared into a graceful train . . . "Something new" and unusual were the real, fresh-cut white chrysanthemums which outlined the hem of the skirt in a deep border effect . . .

Her exquisite tulle and lace veil had to be seen and admired at the reception to be really appreciated . . . for in the hustle and bustle which took place as the bridal party waited in the tiny foyer of the church before the ceremony, the train wasn't spread out enough to show the full effect of its beauty, and it sort of trailed down the aisle behind her . . . a heap of fluff . . .

Contrasting with the bride's old fashioned outfit were the streamlined autumn fashions worn by the guests . . . Mrs. Freeman Hackley was outstanding in her suit of soft mulberry wool lavishly trimmed with platinum fox, and her daughter, Eleanor McClurg, looked like a fashion picture in black with much red fox and a modish black snake hat . . .

Mrs. Thomas M. Claflin was becomingly dressed in an olive green wool costume suit, made with pleated skirt and touches of fur at the neckline . . . while her daughter, Eleanor, was as bright as Mr. Edison's lights in an electric blue jacket trimmed with black Persian lamb, a black skirt and hat . . .

The bride's mother Mrs. Frederick B. Moseley, looked very attractive in royal blue with a pleated skirt, small matching velvet beret and a corsage of gardenias tucked in her sash . . . Mrs. H. D. Fullerton, the bridegroom's mother, chose a costume of deep rose sheer wool and her flowers were also gardenias . . . Mrs. John H. Cunningham, whose son, John, Jr., was best man, was another prominent guest and others witnessing the picturesque ceremony were Dr. and Mrs. Russell MacAusland, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Francis, Mrs. Arthur Beale, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Whiteside, Mrs. Louis F. S. Bader with her daughter, Mrs. Robert G. Fuller, Mrs. Parkman D. Howe, Ellen Gray, Geraldine Field and Daphne Brooks.

Gossip of the Debs

VISITING AROUND in different cities to take in the coming out parties of their former schoolmates is always an enjoyable part of a girl's debutante year . . . and now that Harvard is in full swing the best parties in the east are being given right here in Beantown, so it is not surprising that many out-of-town girls are visiting here . . .

Louisa Robins arrived from Buffalo just in time to attend Nancy McNeil's luncheon . . . She's the house guest of Barbara Bigelow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Forbes Bigelow of Groton, Lancaster, and since her name has just been added to the Boston deb list, hostesses will be reminded to include her when they write out their invitations . . . She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Robins, Jr. . . .

Nancy Lunn of New York is visiting Betsy Chalifoux . . . having come over from Gotham especially to attend Alice Hollister's dance at The Country Club . . . Betsy makes her curtsy to society the night of the Harvard-Army game at a gay dance at Willowbank, the North Shore estate of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Chalifoux . . .

In the meantime "Noni" Harlow of Concord is making a brief visit with her aunt, Mrs. Henry Davis Bushnell of Montclair, N. J. . . . Noni, who formally signs herself as Helen, is the daughter of the Edward Harlows of Sudbury road, Concord . . .

Soup Is Perfect Overture To Dinner

FROM MARTHA LEE'S MORNING BROADCAST OVER WMEX 11:30

"Soup is a [illegible] Perfect [illegible] course [illegible] a dinner when [illegible] time is to be spent. It is the only [illegible] should [illegible] follow."

So if we want our guests to arrive [illegible] we should serve them a delectable soup. If a number of courses follow the soup and if the dinner is heavy the soup itself should be light—a meat stock clear broth or chicken broth or a fine vegetable soup.

Generally speaking soups divide themselves into three classes the clear soups which stimulate appetite and prepare it for the first course to dinner; the thin cream soups which are light and delicate in flavor but nourishing, and the heavy, thick soups which with a green salad and a dessert form a very satisfying meal.

OCTOBER VEGETABLE SOUP

Heat in a large frying pan until it sizzles ½ cup of butter, add a head of celery cut across into very thin slices, also 2 leeks and 2 white onions sliced and 2 carrots cut in small dice. Cover the pan and let all stew for 20 to 30 minutes or until tender over gentle heat, tossing or stirring now and then to avoid burning. Add 1 lb of sliced fresh tomatoes or a No 2 can of tomatoes. Cook until hot then rub all through a colander into a soup kettle containing 2 quarts of water in which 4 chicken bouillon cubes have been dissolved—or the water used for parboiling a fowl may be used. Season with a spoonful of dried herbs tied in cheesecloth or use 1 tablespoon of Worcestershire or other sauce. Mix 6 tablespoons of flour with 2 teaspoons of salt and ½ teaspoon of white pepper. Blend these with 4 tablespoons of softened butter add to the soup and stir until it boils. Serve with croutons.

BLACK BEAN SOUP
(Boston Style)

[illegible]

Soak beans overnight in water to cover. Drain. Add salt and water and cook two hours or until beans are very soft. Force mixture through coarse strainer. Place puree back on stove and simmer 15 minutes. Melt butter, blend in flour. Add cream slowly, stirring constantly. Add cream slowly, stirring constantly until a glossy thickened. Add to bean puree, bringing mixture to boiling point. Place over hot water until serving time. Serve in shallow bowl. Place a slice of lemon with a clove and a slice of hard-cooked egg in each bowl. Serve with croutons.

CHEESE POTATO SOUP

[illegible]

Cook potatoes in boiling salted water until tender. Put through a strainer. Measure the liquid and add enough milk to make 4 cups. Scald. Melt the butter and fry the finely chopped onion and simmer 5 minutes. Add the flour and seasonings and combine with the potato mixture. Cook 2 minutes and strain if desired. Add cheese and heat until smooth. Add chopped parsley and serve very hot.

DON'T ding-dong them TO DINNER TEMPT them WITH NAPLES Ravioli

NECKLINES so high that they seem boned are a perfect background for costume jewelry or pearls . . . and it's a good fashion either in afternoon crepes or in a sports knit. This slender knit frock has not only the high neckline but an interestingly draped bodice, and extended shoulders. We don't show it, but there is a plaid-knit jacket with it, a short cardigan affair, which you may knit if you want a complete ensemble. Knitting directions for the ensemble may be had by writing to Annice Brink, Fashion Editor, Boston American, and inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Improve Your Speech

"Oh! this WOULD happen", thinks Madge frantically in the middle of a word. Should she pronounce it exQUIsite or EXquisite?

Made would like to make a hit with these attractive men (they're the kind who know EXquisite is right). But how can she when she makes these wild stabs at words?

"Yes, the club is run by a KLICK—but we've had an imcomPARab.e PROgrum, don't you think?"

Of course her breaks amuse people who correctly say KLEEK for clique, inCOMparable, PROgram with an 'a' instead of 'u' sound. Madge, detecting their glances, thinks what's the use of trying with people better bred and educated than herself who naturally talk correctly.

Nonsense! Everybody has to learn the trickier words—and you can quickly check up on them.

Do you shy away from "French by" words for clothes and food? You wonder if you're wrong to speak of a modiste as a MOdist or lingerie as lonjerAY, to order the table de HOTE dinner?

With a very little practice you could speak confidently and correctly of a moDEEST, lanzhaREE, the tahBLDOTE dinner.

And why hold back when all talk of events of the day the premiere of a new show, the Sudeten problem the dictators' pact?

You, too, can be at ease when you know how to avoid such words as preMEER, SuDETen, DICtators. You sound cultured and charming as you say correctly preMYAIR, suDAYten, dicTAYtors.

Don't let uncertainty about pronunciation handicap you. Our 4-page booklet WORDS MOST OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED quickly sets you right. Gives you the clear correct pronunciation admired by people you want to know.

Send 17c in coins for our booklet WORDS MOST OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED, to Boston Evening American, Home Institute, 110 West 40th Street, New York, N Y. Write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and the NAME of booklet.

Household Tips For the Bride

DEAR MRS. FAIRFAX:

Dick and I have been very happily married for the past eight months. We are saving up to buy a little home in the suburbs and I realize I must be a little more careful in my cooking. I don't seem to be able to cook just enough for two and often have something left over. Can you give me the name of a book which will help me cook more economically?

BRIDE.

It's such a pleasure to get a letter from one who is "happily married," as I get so many of the oppressive kind of letter. But I'm sorry you didn't give me your name and address so I could send you the name of a book such as you request. There isn't space enough in my column to print lists of books. So, if you will send me a self-addressed stamped (2-cent stamp will do) envelope I will gladly send you names of good books along that line. This applies to any bride or housekeeper who wants this list.

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL

Buttermilk Cream Lightens, Softens Skin

By ARLINE GOULD

SUMMER has long gone, you feel like a new person in something rather special in the way of fall clothes . . . but does your summer tan still linger to spoil the nice feeling of glamour when you catch a glimpse of yourself, all unaware, in some mirror?

If the harshness of sun-dried skin still lingers, and with it the indeterminate color that once was a tawny gold, you're the person they had in mind when a new kind of special on a grand softening and lightening cream was [illegible].

For this week a $2.2[illegible] jar of buttermilk cream which has received the kudos of this department and many others like it all over the country, is going to be put on the counter with a great big one dollar sign beside it!

It is plumb full of all the health ful richness of fresh buttermilk. And long in the centuries of beauty secrets has buttermilk been known both for its exceptional lubricating and beautifying qualities. At the same time it is ever so lightly and mildly bleaching. But quite enough to do a thorough job of making you resplendently radiant after a series of nightly treatments.

You don't have to use a thick and gucky layer of this cream to get results. Smooth it into the skin for a minute or so, watch it being greedily lapped up then leave just the tiniest film of it. Not more than enough to give your face a healthy gleam.

You may be sure that years of exhaustive tests have gone into finding the best combination of natural soothing oils and emollients in a blend of smoothest texture that's delightful to use.

To learn about this buttermilk cream softening and whitening, on sale at less than half price, phone Arline Gould, LIBerty 4000 week days until five, or write her at the Boston American inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

PLANTS GET AROUND

BOONE, Ia. (AP)—Boone residents are wondering where next they should look for plants. They found an ivy vine growing through the brick wall of a school room. Then they found a weed patch in a crack on top of the city hall.

BOSTON CRIME REPORTER by FRED MAC ISAAC

Murder Out of Thin Air

CHAPTER ONE

(Characters, names and addresses in this story are fictitious. No reference to actual persons or places is intended).

It was big Tom Gorman, for a quarter of a century city editor of the Boston Sphere, who was speaking. "Murphy," he said, "you're obsolete."

"But not extinct," qualified Addison Francis Murphy.

"Practically. Newspapers can't be bothered with every wandering reporter who wants a job."

No? How's your [illegible]

Rotten," confessed the [illegible] editor. "I'm sorry for you, Murphy. You worked for me years ago. I know you're a live wire but you burn out. I'm sorry, but sorry. There's no news in this town, anyway."

You haven't even heard [illegible] the [illegible] of. A good murder story would help. Thousand on your [illegible] and pep up something in the city. I'll get [illegible]

"HOW ABOUT IT?"

I'm afraid you've got out of [illegible] murder scene," replied Gorman gravely. "You're [illegible]

I've [illegible] find the murder [illegible] Hey, city, how about it?"

He threw [illegible] You [illegible] Like the good old days," he said. "How's tricks, Murphy [illegible]

Invisible

We [illegible] you're a specimen of an [illegible] species. It takes a [illegible] to find the murderer [illegible] Be careful for [illegible]

A [illegible] reporter Addison Francis Murphy entered the city room, nodded to the [illegible] and passed on into the morgue where the [illegible] were kept.

Two hours later he came out, found a seat up in the [illegible] press and [illegible] a sheet of [illegible] paper covered with [illegible] facts of the benefactor.

Boston After Dark

By GEORGE HOLLAND

Monday Morning Musings:

The Yankees have won their third straight World Series and predictions were made freely around Boston today that the Yankees' third will prove to be their last . . . The Red Sox versus Cincinnati is the lineup of the "wise guys" for next season . . . Tom Yawkey and Joe Cronin will be the last ones to remonstrate about this forecast.

In this opinion, Judy Canova is a bad substitute for the Stroud Twins . . . On the Edgar Bergen program last night, Judy was so weak that your reporter suspected that the Stroud Twins were triplets.

GEORGE HOLLAND

In Sunday's column a paragraph concluded the piece with the news that Eb Pons had a bad day at the race track without making a bet . . . There was more to the story than that . . . The public often wonders how a reporter can gauge the exact amount of type necessary to fill his column . . . The answer is that he doesn't know whether his "stuff" is a paragraph too long, or a paragraph too short . . . These good friends, the compositors, take care of that . . . If the column is too short, the compositors plug it with "leads" . . . If it is too long it gets "button off" . . .

That is what happened to the oversigned's column Sunday . . . As you read it, it relayed the information that Eb Pons had a bad day at the track . . . But here is the story . . . Mrs. Thomas K. McKoy, wife of Rockingham's president, is the lady who buys the records which Announcer Babe Rubenstein affixes to a gramaphone in front of a loud-speaker between the races . . . One of Mrs. McKoy's favorites was "Martha," introduced a few years ago by Arthur Tracey, the Street Singer . . . Knowing that Mrs. McKoy enjoyed hearing the number, Announcer Rubenstein plays it occasionally.

Placing Judge Pons acquired a fondness for the same tune, too, and to please both his friends, "Babe" was scheduling the tune at every possible chance . . . Mrs. McKoy finally became tired of hearing "Martha," and on Thursday she asked Rubenstein to give the record a rest . . . This was a welcome order to the Babe . . . He smashed the record to bits . . . A minute later, the news came over the teletype that Frank Crosetti had hit a home run which won the second series game for the Yankees . . . Placing Judge Pons was a strong rooter, and he may have had a small bet on the Cubs' chances . . . With Crosetti's home run, and the destruction of "Martha," the record, fresh in his mind,

Rubenstein yelled to Pons

"Make a parlay, Eb. The Cubs and "Martha."

The Heckler Quit:

A [illegible] of the talented Cross and Dunn duo squelched a [illegible] who was [illegible] at the Mayfair last night, it seems [illegible]

"If you don't stop, we'll pour you back in a bottle" was the warning.

Once Over Lightly:

Morris Needles, the Roxbury tobacconist, has bought a new home in Brighton . . . Dick Stutz has recovered from the bite of a determined [illegible] at the Bean Drew . . . Exchange Cross and Dunn [illegible] the best thing in town to [illegible] . . . Wardman at the Copley Square [illegible] . . . The [illegible] leveled so many times that Lombardo is on the [illegible] . . . Incidentally, all of Broadway is on the Lido Avenue [illegible]

Catch the Page boys at the Bradford Penthouse if you happen to have the time.

You may have read a soliloquy between Louis Sobol, his Queen and his dog in Sobol's column a few days ago which treated with the subject of Eddie Craig, Jr. . . . Craig is featured at the Cocoanut Grove and performs some marvelous feats of ratiocination . . . His mind slithers so quickly from one subject to another that ordinary mortals are overcome . . .

Don Cossacks Below Par

Ex-Hussars Disappoint

By RUTH MARSTERS
Music Editor

When a Boston audience so far forgets itself as to become inordinate in its enthusiasm, it's news.

The Don Cossacks, however, have a special following hereabouts. Devotees who [illegible] a new [illegible] to [illegible] by the [illegible] of the diminutive conductor, Serge Jaroff, and subsequently swept off their feet by the [illegible] of the chorus itself.

It is not a very grateful task to report that their seasonal appearance yesterday afternoon in Symphony Hall was disappointing, both in program and performance. (A minority viewpoint, we judge.)

The effectiveness of the chorus has always been dependent to a certain extent upon a vast [illegible] encompassing the highest soprani and the deepest base, together with a dynamic range so great as to provide for the most dramatic contrasts in alternate pianissimo whispering and thundering fortissimos.

Yesterday, however, much of the balance was destroyed, and the fine polish of performance dulled by a too glib use of these very contrasts. Indeed, it was [illegible] to the [illegible] of the [illegible] demand [illegible] The sheer [illegible] of [illegible] sang them through the Cossack songs well enough.

The program itself was not as interesting as usual. Jaroff's name as arranger appeared prominently, to the exclusion of many more inspired composers and arrangers who have been exceptional specialty and with better results in the past.

[illegible] for [illegible] of [illegible] singing ex-hussars have acquired.

In the first place they are possessed of a [illegible] might have been designed especially to stir the imagination and excite the envy of their audience.

And on that [illegible] they [illegible] on this [illegible] a night [illegible] it would [illegible] rare entertainment.

Just as off with [illegible]

Selznick to Film Swedish Drama

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Motion Picture Editor International News Service

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 10—The next important production at the David Selznick studio is "Intermezzo," a Swedish drama which Jock Whitney saw on the screen and was so enthusiastic about that he immediately bought it from Svensk Film-Industry, Inc. It's a triangle story of two women and a man.

"Intermezzo," will precede David Selznick's plans to put into production in January the dont hold your breath

Louella O. Parsons

Every one of Paul De Kruif's books has won favor with the reading public. 'Microbe Hunters.' 'The Fight for Life' and 'Hunger Fighters.' have all been best sellers. They are non-fiction but so absorbing in their account of the battle against disease that the layman as well as the medical man enjoy them.

Paul Muni has decided that he would like to bring it to the screen. "The Fight for Life" and build it around a story. An offer has been made for the film rights but if the book is bought, it means an enormous amount of work to make it suitable to the movies for it is more of a treatise than a pictorial document.

What goes on in a town when a clever comedienne like Una Merkel is between contracts? Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Una have come to a parting of the ways after seven years, and when she left the lot last week it was like a scene from a tear-jerker. She's such a swell girl and has always been so popular with the hairdressers, prop boys, electricians who all rallied around to say goodbye.

But sometimes it is possible for a player to remain too long at one studio and Una, who can get a laugh by merely walking into a scene, will surely go on to bigger and better things in the freelance field.

A line of two: The instructor who is teaching Robert Wilcox to fly a plane is named Hank Giffar. If Maureen O'Sullivan and Johnny Weissmuller permanent she will co-star with the Aztec Heroes when she goes to Ireland the first of the year.

Wonder what Lionel Atwill is serious on Margaret Landsay's new charm bracelet means?

Charles Dickens described the spirit of "Christmas Past" as a young boy, but when it comes to the screen in "A Christmas Carol," Ann Rutherford plays the part.

Snapshots of Hollywood

Virginia Peine has taken a job at Bernard Newman's fashion emporium and will move out of the mansion George Raft gave her as soon as he returns from New York; Venita Varden goes East in a few days to think things over and when she returns she and Jack Oakie may remarry; Betty Furness and her bridegroom Johnny Green will try their luck in New York; Fred MacMurray breaking ground for the new apartment house he is building here.

Claudette Colbert an eyeful at the Women's Press Club in a purple suit with a garnet starfish in her lapel; Alice White's friends hope she gets the job in "Idiot's Delight" for which she's testing; Lew Ayres breaking in his new car, received a ticket for driving too slow and obstructing traffic; don't say I didn't tell you when Janet Gaynor and Adrian marry next June.

Federal Theater Hit Here Soon

The Federal Theater production "Haiti," with the original New York cast that did sensational business at Manhattan's Lafayette Theater last season, moves into the Copley on Monday evening, October 17, initiating a new national Federal Theater policy. The Copley box office opens today for the advance ticket sale, prices at the usual Federal Theater scale.

'Golden Boy' Opens Next Monday at Plymouth

"Golden Boy," which comes to the Plymouth Theater for a three-week stay, beginning next Monday evening, with the original cast headed by Frances Farmer, Luther Adler and Morris Carnovsky, opened at New York's Belasco Theater on November 4, 1937, for a seven month's run.

A Coast company headed by Francis Lederer had opened and closed during their time and the New York company, with Miss Farmer, went over to London and opened at the fashionable St. James Theater last June.

A second company went over to substitute for the original company in London, where the play is still running, while the original company returned to American shores September 1 to rejoin Miss Farmer and fulfill the short touring season which brings it here for the third stop on its route of seven major cities.

Columbia Stars Mildred Clarke

Manager Max Mecmacis Columbia Theater this week observes its first anniversary by presenting a tabloid musical comedy starring Mildred Clarke, "Queen of Burlesque."

Miss Clarke has just concluded an engagement at Broadway engagement and brings to the Columbia not a new and startling Mildred Clarke presentation. There will be a gala midnite show tomorrow.

Benefit for Actors' Fund

The Actors' Fund of America, an organization which doubtless is close to the heart of every actor and actress in the profession, will be the beneficiary for today's matinee, at 2.30 p. m., at the Plymouth Theater of Washington with Ethel Barrymore and her distinguished company.

Every seat that comes into the box office for tomorrow's performance of the matinee will go to Daniel Frohman's Actors' Fund which has been caring for the aged folk of the theater for more than a half century.

Several authorities have done their part by granting a tax exemption on tickets sold for today's matinee performance.

GLAMOROUS INA CLAIRE in "Yankee Fable," Lewis Meltzer's gay comedy of the revolution period, opens at the Colonial a week from tomorrow night.

JULIE HAYDON is featured in Paul Vincent Carroll's drama critics award play, "Shadow and Substance," opening next Monday at the Wilbur.

LYNN FONTANNE plays the loyal Alkmena in "Amphitryon 38," now in its last week at the Colonial.

Variety, Quality For Stage Fans

With the Lunts, a Barrymore and a Bracken on local stages Hub playgoers have no cause for complaint because the week offers no openings.

No theater-minded citizen should let the week go by without seeing that perfectly gorgeous lark, "Amphitryon 38," with the fabulous Lunts, which departs from the Colonial Theater following Saturday night's performance.

Ethel Barrymore, an 101-year-old "Gran" Whiteoaks in Mazo de la Roche's "Whiteoaks," at the Plymouth has one of her finest roles.

"What a Life" is a George Abbott comedy and Eddie Bracken is its highschool-boy star which means precisely that it is a hit and which explains the reams of laughter that issue nightly from the Wilbur Theater.

THOUSANDS BORROW MONEY FROM THIS MAN

The Manager of the Malden Office
MR. ROY SHOREY

They Like the Friendly, Easy, Business-like Way He Gives Them Cash!

● Nothing cold or stern about the gentleman above. In fact, you'd go a long way before you found a chap more friendly, pleasant, and understanding.

He's typical of the men who manage the neighborhood offices of the Personal Finance Company — which helps explain why 776,000 people borrowed money from us last year, giving us the title of America's most popular loan company!

If you need from $25 to $300, he'll be glad to help you get it. Won't ask tiresome questions, either—or bore you with needless red-tape. Just a few necessary facts, and as soon as your application is approved, he'll have your money ready.

There's a man just like him at each of our 14 local offices, listed below. If you need money, stop by. You don't have to ask a friend to sign your note, nor do you have to own real estate or an automobile. You can get your loan quickly—and quietly!

Grimes Ousted By Brooklyn

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—General Manager Larry MacPhail of the Brooklyn club called reporters today to tell them something they all knew—that Burleigh Grimes had been released as manager of the club. No successor was named, though MacPhail said he was considering several candidates, foremost of whom were Leo Durocher, Jimmy Wilson, Charles (Chuck) Dressen, and Frank Frisch.

"Grimes did his best and even brought the club up 13 games higher than 1937," said MacPhail, "but we feel a change is necessary. We are still dickering for his successor and expect to announce the new choice within two weeks."

Economic Royalism Threatens Baseball

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE MAGNATES are eating aspirin today after seeing the New York Yankees grand-slam their pennant-champions in four straight games. This amounts to being smacked across the features with a fresh-killed haddock and dispels the notion that equals still meet equals in World Series games. This makes the fourth time in eleven years that the Yankees have licked the N. L. entry in straight games and the tenth occasion in twelve years that an American League champion has defeated its rival.

AUSTEN LAKE

As this writer measures it, the trouble with the National League is the same kind of an affliction that ails the American League—a malignant case of Yankeeitis. The Yankees have overpowered their league as emphatically as they have smothered the Giants and Cubs in the last three autumns.

One of two things must happen before Yankee domination ends. Either the other teams must raise their playing standard to Yankee level or the Yankees must reduce their strength to major league average. Now, if Colonel Ruppert will just get together with the rest of the magnates and pool all the players, re-drafting the teams each winter and choosing up sides out of a hat [illegible] This would [illegible] competition [illegible] eliminate such dead spots as St. Louis, Philadelphia and Brooklyn to mention a few.

Luckman Keeps Lions At Peak

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (INS)—To this day and age of football upsets, coaches of many leading college elevens sat back and breathed a sigh of relief today after a Saturday of true-to-form major encounters.

Favorites had their day, for the most part, led for the second straight week by Columbia, which figures to be the Tartar of the East, as long as Sid Luckman, this flashy back, continues his spectacular play.

The Lions with Luckman pitching strikes and converting points after touchdown with almost monotonous regularity, dumped the Army, 20 to 18 by coming back in the second half with two touchdowns for one of the best performances in the court.

Holiday Clash Settles Eagles' Status

By WILL CONNELL

A sparkling football show will be tossed into Fenway Park on Wednesday afternoon when Boston College tackles Gus Dorais' powerful Detroit Titans.

The Eagle puzzle of 1938 will be solved and the customers be served one of the top dishes of the year.

You've heard that B. C. has a weak pass defense. If that is true Detroit will be poison, since the other night it pitched a pretty fair Catholic University outfit to win 27 to 0.

On the other hand, C. U. passed 15[illegible] yards by passing to 129 for Detroit, and that certainly indicates that Detroit's pass defense is [illegible]

JOE PALOOKA — The Battle Continues — By Ham Fisher

"BOTH BOYS LEFT THEIR CORNERS FAST--RODNEY THROWS A LEFT HOOK, PALOOKA ROLLS WITH IT AND SENDS A SOLID RIGHT TO THE SHORT RIBS--- AND STARTS A TATTOO OF RIGHTS AND LEFTS TO THE BODY--
RODNEY DANCED AWAY--HE SHOOTS ANOTHER LEFT---IT CAUGHT PALOOKA ON THE EAR---RODNEY FOLLOWS UP WITH A RIGHT---IT GLANCED OFF JOE'S SHOULDER--JOE SENT A RIGHT TO RED'S STOMACH--- OOH---OH---IT LOOKED LOW.
I GUESS IT WAS NO FOUL OR DONOVAN WOULD HAVE WARNED HIM---THEY'RE IN CLOSE NOW--- PALOOKA SENDS A SERIES OF RIGHTS AND LEFTS TO THE BODY--- RODNEY DROPS TO ONE KNEE---
IT WAS A RIGHT UPPERCUT--- PALOOKA RAN TO A NEUTRAL CORNER---RODNEY TOOK A COUNT OF TWO---HE GOT UP--- THE REFEREE IS RUBBING OFF HIS GLOVES---PALOOKA IS BEHIND DONOVAN WAITING TO RUSH IN--

Fran Lane Ill

Ex-Harvard Ace Has Pneumonia

Well, the Yankees showed that they are "tops" among major league clubs . . . It requires a great ball club to win the world series in straight games . . . Fran Lane, former Harvard half back, is seriously ill with double pneumonia . . . Get your reservations for the Boston & Maine special to Hanover without delay . . . Brown will prove the toughest customer the Indians of the North have tackled this season . . . Bill Coleman, the Harvard guard, will receive serious consideration from Dick Harlow after the great defensive game he played against Cornell . . . The four straight defeats must have taken the edge off Gabby Hartnett's thinking apparatus . . . He sent "Tex" Carleton in as a relief pitcher and selected Carl Reynolds as a pinch hitter . . . Because it was pitted against his first real opposition of the season, the Big Green got off to a slow start in Tigertown . . . But, once it began to click, Dartmouth was very impressive . . . Coach Red Blaik still has Bob Krieger, his sophomore back, under glass . . . As a unit, Cornell didn't look so good but Carl Snavely has some great gridsters on his Big Red squad . . . The fans gave Joe DiMaggio the well known "cluck" yesterday . . . They have refused to forget Joe's faux pax of last spring . . . With their pitching corps and "Old Case" at the helm, the Bees would have given the Yankees a better argument than did the Cubs . . . Ducky Pond hasn't been able to unearth replacements for Clint Frank, Dave Colwell and Al Hessberg . . . Yesterday's breeze was made to order for Capt. Ben Pine and his Gloucester smack . . . Coach Harlow will stress timing this week . . . His Crimson charges were ragged on Saturday . . . Probably because they didn't resort to their back field shift during the first period . . . Tuss McLaughry hopes to have Capt. Larry Atwell ready for Dartmouth . . . The N. E. P. G. A. will hold its annual meeting at the Lenox Nov. 3 . . . The pros are playing at the Salem C. C. today . . . Freddie Corcoran has booked four tournaments for the boys to play on their way to Florida . . . They will gather at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., move down into Pinehurst, then to Columbia, S. C., and into Augusta, Ga. . . . George MacDonald, new owner of the Miami-Biltmore Hotel, will put up dollar for dollar with the City of Miami for another $10,000 tournament . . . The N. H. L. voted to allow any governor of the Montreal Maroons to attend all meetings this winter . . . But, they will not be allowed to vote . . . "Chuck" Conacher is definitely headed for Detroit . . .

Robert Eager To Fight Way Back to Top

The lid flies off big time wrestling in Boston this week when Yvon Robert, General Pierre Charleboix from Montreal starts a campaign he has set to return him to the World's championship in a match against George (K. O.) Koverly in Tuesday night's card at the Boston Garden. The bouts will take place Tuesday night and will be the first offering of Promoter Paul Bowser this season.

Coaches are on special age matters. Over in Tewksbury defeat in the West Section so the entire wrestling world will be watching with interest to see if Mason Robert faces against Robert in a finish bout when it comes to the finals. Both are dusted to be fast.

It's a severe test for Robert and if he can come out of it with or his future will be assured. If he can't he is to be definitely retired and as a has-been.

Promoter Bowser thinks the show is the greatest wrestling he has ever staged right from the top, which he thinks is a natural to build down to the bottom part of the card.

In the semi-final The Shiek man of mystery who has shown to be fore with modern success will attempt to pepper off Charles Strong the former Oklahoma football star who is one of the toughest.

A special event has The Shadow whose name home and antecedents is as dark as he is rare against Tommy Rae of Springfield, athlete. The Shadow according to those who saw him on the coast will be the hit of the year here before he gets the ugh hit is starting away with to pay-hour on his hand.

In other bouts Babe Zaharas husky westerner takes on Angelo Savoldi brother of Joseph, Joe of Notre Dame football fame and Ray Dunn former Olympic wrestler, clashes with Ed White heavyweight from New York.

Battle Royal At Mechanics

Four tough grapplers have been selected for the battle royal to be staged at Mechanics Building Wednesday night. Tom Paparo, Kelly Markow, Joe Gallucci and Ted Germaine are the four who will participate. It will be every man for himself and the last man on the feet will win the bout.

In the feature bout Pat Adams the Georgia Cracker is matched with the Mystery Man of the ring to be announced.

As usual there will be plenty of fireworks when the boys get together.

Budge Beaten By Aussie Captain

Berkeley, Calif. Oct. 10 (AP)—Harry Hopman non-playing captain of the Australian Davis Cup team eliminated J. Donald Budge of Oakland, in a quarter-final match of the Pacific Coast tennis tournament 6-2, 5-7, 6-1.

Hopman had the second set at 5-all, just before rain, making it 6-to-three. The final set was a walkaway for Hopman, who put an experienced game while the world champion was erratic.

Army Won't Help Harvard Headache { Dartmouth Has Great Eleven

By JACK CONWAY

FOLLOWING DEFEATS by Brown and Cornell it cannot be said that Harvard has a very pleasant week-end to look forward to with Army marching into the Stadium on Saturday . . . While beaten by Columbia in a hectic finish, West Point has a powerful eleven, and will rule a heavy favorite over the Crimson . . . Cornell lived up to pre-game predictions and played dazzling football.

Mr. Boston

Dartmouth looks like one of the great teams of the country . . . Its 22-to-0 victory over Princeton was additional proof of its great ability . . . The "Big Green" team plays Brown at Hanover, N. H., on Saturday, and it should be a game worth writing home about . . . Yale, like Harvard, is having its early season difficulties . . . Its 21-to-0 defeat by Penn wasn't a surprise to persons who have been watching the early season work of the Eli.

Boston College will hold the football attention during the early part of the week as it plays the University of Detroit at Fenway Park on Columbus Day afternoon . . . Gil Dobie has some exceptionally good football material at Boston College, and it has shown to advantage in the two games already played . . . The University of Detroit always has a husky football squad, and does not ask for favors from any rivals.

Wrestling Season Bows in Thursday

THE WRESTLING season will bow in at the Garden on Thursday night when Paul Bowser will send Yvon Robert, former world's champion, against K. O. Koverly in a finish bout . . . Robert, young, fiery and ambitious, is of the opinion he will regain the world's title now held by big Steve Casey . . . Yvon, says Eddie Quinn, has been training in the Canadian wilds, and is in the best condition of his career . . . As Robert used to be a pretty fair amateur heavyweight and at one time aspired to box Al McCoy it wouldn't be good judgment for Koverly to take too many liberties with the Frenchman . . . Koverly has always liked to do a little free punching, but it looks as if Robert can equal him if necessary at this style of warfare.

Wise Prince proved he can carry 124 pounds and show at his best when he won the General Green Purse at Rockingham Park . . . Wise Prince has been a consistent performer during the Rockingham meeting . . . Lou Smith plans to wind up his meeting with a blaze of glory on Columbus Day when he will offer an attractive card of racing . . . The form horses have been coming in for their own at recent Rockingham races, and this condition will help increase the mutuel handle . . . The handle always falls off at a track where the long shots win most of the races.

The racing scene will shift from Rockingham to Narragansett Park on Thursday . . . The Narragansett meeting is scheduled to run through November 12 . . . It is likely that there will be several additional days of racing for charity . . . Before Walter O'Hara got into his difficulties with Governor Quinn, Narragansett Park always contributed generously to charity . . . One year charity received $40,000 from racing . . . I know Judge James E. Dooley is anxious to resume this grand custom of helping the poor and unfortunate.

Making Boxing Safe for Germans

MAX SCHMELING, if at the ringside when Adolph Heuser won on a foul from Tony Shucco, must have wept when he witnessed the referee declaring his countryman the winner while on the canvas . . . It may have reminded Schmeling of how he won from Jack Sharkey under similar circumstances, and made him regret his recent bout with Joe Louis was not held in Berlin . . . If it had been, Louis would probably have been disqualified for belting Der Max while the latter was meditating on the ropes.

On form, Shucco is a much better boxer than Heuser . . . The latter is an aggressive, wide open puncher . . . Heuser has lost most of the vision in one of his eyes, and this resulted in his defeat in some of his bouts in this country.

Schmeling wants to box again, and may decide to engage in a tune-up match in Germany before he again inflicts himself on the patience of the American boxing public . . . Schmeling is long past his fistic peak, but like many another veteran athlete, he will be the last person to admit he is all through . . . As Schmeling is wealthy, there is no real reason for his continuing in the boxing game.

Random Shots at Target

BOSTON UNIVERSITY only looked like a fair football team as it rallied to win from St. Lawrence, 19 to 14 . . . Pat Hanley lacks the necessary football reserves . . . Holy Cross continues to roll along merrily . . . Dr. Eddie Anderson has a team of great power, and a fine assortment of plays . . . If Boston College can click, the Boston College-Holy Cross game should be one of the best gridiron clashes of the season.

The schoolboys will receive their share of attention on Columbus Day with a fine list of football offerings scheduled . . . It is amazing how well the schoolboys play modern football . . . They toss forward passes and pull off trick plays with the precision and finish of experts.

Golden Glove Trials At Arena Tonight

Larry Bigger — Larry Bolvin cleaned up in the flyweight division at the Hearst All-American Diamond Belt show last year, but has outgrown that division and enters the 118-pound class in tonight's show of the Irish-American at the Boston Arena.

Bolvin Seeks New Honors

Tonight is Amateur Fight Night at the Boston Arena. The Irish-American A. A. is offering the second in a series of four tryouts for the 1938 Golden Gloves Boxing Championships.

A large list of classy performers are slated for action and there will be plenty of padded gloves thrown from the starting hour at 8:15 until midnight.

Bouts will be held in six classes of open competition—118, 126, 135, 147 and 160 pounds and heavyweights, as well as in the 147 and 160 pounds classes for novices.

COMPETE FOR FINALS

The winners of tonight's bouts, together with the winners of last week's contests and those of October 17 and 24, will clash for honors in the grand finals of the Golden Gloves at the Arena on October 31.

Leading the pack in the 118 pound division is Larry Bolvin of Providence, New England A. A. A. U. 1938 flyweight titleholder. Bolvin has gone up a class this year and is expected to shine as brilliantly in that group as he did with the smaller battlers. Also in the 118 is Robert Ewing, East Boston; Richard Bergeron, South Boston; Lawrence Menard, Fisherville, and John Leonard of Rayanham.

MORT HUNT BOXING

Battling for the coveted position in the 126 are Mort Hunt, Revere; Earl Parent, Allston; George Ferdinan, Jamaica Plain; Paul Cambria, Boston, and Leo Dulmaine of Millbury. Outstanding entries in the lightweight class are Ed Stevens, Allston; Al Perlotti, Leominster, and Guy Sasubo of Boston.

Gene Robichaud of Worcester, the All-America New England champion, will be a favorite in the 147-pound class. He will have to go at top speed, however, to gain the verdict over boys like Arthur Garceau, Taunton; Dave Powell, East Boston; Joe Halligan, Fitchburg, and Mike DeNapoli of Rosindale.

St. Clements Plays Mission Wednesday

St. Clements High School of Somerville will play a Catholic League game with Mission High at Dilboy Field Somerville Wednesday at 10:30 a. m.

Coach Fannen is optimistic about his team after the very fine showing it made against the Malden Catholic team.

CLARE SCORES

ARCOLA, N. J., Oct. 10 (AP)—Charles Clare of Race Brook, Conn., scored a 4 and 2 victory over New Jersey amateur champion Charles Whitehead of Plainfield to win the 12th annual Arcola invitation golf

Redskins Drop Game to Giants

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The New York Giants handed the professional football champion Washington Redskins their first defeat of the season, winning 10 to 7 before 37,000 spectators.

The Giants trailed 3 to 7 going into the final period. Then Ed Danowski began a series of passes from the Giants' 27 yard line. They moved down the field on short flips to the Redskins' 13, where Danowski shot a pass to Howell for the winning touchdown. Cuff converted.

BLADES WIN

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 10 (AP)—The Cincinnati Blades retained their American pro football league lead by defeating the Louisville Tanks, 7 to 6, in the closing minutes of play before 4000 fans.

Yankees 'Dream' Outfit

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Copyright, 1938, by International News Service

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Oct. 10—The world is the Yanks' park today. Those fighting Cubs came up on the half shell. Like the old lady in the rummage sale they sampled everything and took nothing.

The Cubs do all right. Like a bank director at a weekly meeting of the board, they get their gravy just for being there.

It makes the National League rooters feel a bit on the dipsy-doo side when their champs didn't even get a handful of feathers out of four tries. Lee gets credit for another lost game while Ruffing is the Yank pitcher who gets two in the gravy column. What knocks us on the diagonal is the Yanks getting one run out of less than two hits and doing it 22 times. Give those boys some celery tops and a big spoon and they will whip a vegetable plate for a small but refined family.

There are no alibis and no rebuttals. The Cubs got nine runs out of 33 hits for 45 bases. And if that doesn't tell the story then you aren't listening.

Daily double: The Cubs' lineup looked empty without Gabby Hartnett's swollen finger in it. Six pitchers came up for the Cubs but they forgot the ice.

Lee, Root, Page, French, Carleton and Dean trotted up in single file and were knocked off like a boy on the back of a wagon. The Cubs used eight pitchers in the series while the Yanks got by with four. About the only thing even in the series was the number of umpires from each league. Two each.

It's over and it makes good stove polish for the rest of the winter. There hasn't been a team like the Yanks since Twenty-Mule Borax came around the mountain. Like the girls on the end of the chorus, they are the best in their line. ..

All this chirping about busting the Yanks up like fish food does not mean anything. Connie Mack did it with the square-hatted Athletics. But Connie needed money worse than a fellow taking off his shoes in a pawn shop.

The fans in New York and any other town on the big wheel love a winner. Did you ever hear of anybody talking about busting Joe Louis up? Why throw a rock through a memorial window?

When you get a team like the Yanks you should breathe on it lightly and rub it with a chamois cloth. It's the only complete set of anything in America.

They're the best. Remember the name and accept no substitutes.

That washes us up in sports for a while until we interview Jack Doyle. We want to get a line on his defense when he is waving bye-bye to somebody.

Rabbit Dog Trials For Brockton Fans

The Southeastern Massachusetts Fish and Game Association of Brockton have secured special permission from the Department of Conservation to hold their eighth annual rabbit dog trials on October 12, Columbus Day, at Harden's camp on Maple street, Plympton.

Special plans have been made to eliminate all fire hazards in the three swamps to be used.

MacArthur's Ace Inspires Mates

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 10 (AP)—They were still talking about it at the New Haven Country Club.

Hugh MacArthur, playing in a foursome recently, made a hole in one on the 145-yard 12th, his partner, E. P. Eggleston followed this up with a birdie two, Ralph Armstrong got home in par three and you guessed it, L. E. Wieser took a four.

Gaiety Gaines Wins Field Honors

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 10 (AP)—Gaiety Gaines, owned by F. F. Gaines, Sherburne, N. Y., was crowned field dog champion in the National Pheasant Futurity Field Trails, richest of breeders' stakes.

Gaiety Gaines bested the largest field of dogs in the history of the event to win the title.

Hartnett Promises To Rip Cubs Apart

Hack Alone Sure of Post

CHICAGO, Oct. 10 (INS)—Gabby Hartnett said today, as the Cubs reached home on their sorry journey from New York, that a new Cub ball club would greet the fans in 1939.

Hartnett preferred to forget about the World Series. He said that was something that was in the past—much as it hurt him. He declared:

"There'll be a clean sweep of the ball club. That includes outfielders, infielders and pitchers. I am not satisfied with the team if I have to manage the same group next year."

Gabby continued:

"I'll start at the top, and there will be no exceptions, I'm not mentioning any names, but there'll be a different ball club on the north side."

The Gabber had taken some time to absorb the searing beating by the Yankees in four straight ball games. He said:

"When I say that there will be a clean sweep from top to bottom, I mean it.

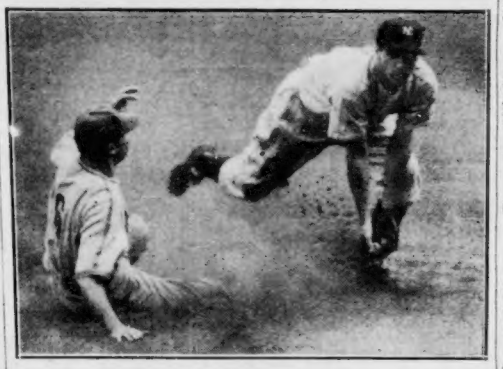
"Winning the National League pennant doesn't mean anything unless you can put a powerful club against the Yankees or whoever happens to win the American pennant."

Hartnett didn't indicate what players might be included in the general cleanup. He will confer with P. K. Wrigley over the prospects for next season.

It is generally understood that Stanley Hack is the only one sure of his post.

Hoag Helps

The Cubs lost the World Series in four straight, yet light-hearted "Ripper" Collins did his best. His game afield was the talk of the Yankee clubhouse. Jittery mates made it possible for Myril to reach safely on a poor throw. Jurges was the offender.



Stanley O. K.

Stanley Hack's series efforts went for naught but the gallant third sacker of the Cubs played a whale of a game in the recent tangle with the Yanks. He started the Hartnett crew off on the right foot in the first inning with a single but was forced out

Match Race on If Track Is Dry

BALTIMORE, Oct. 10 (INS)—If the Pimlico race track is dry at 8:30 a. m. November 1, the long-awaited match race between War Admiral and Seabiscuit will be run that afternoon—regardless of intervening weather—Maryland Jockey Club officials announced today.

If the track is muddy at the appointed hour, the event will be held November 3, it was said.

A neutral observer will decide whether the track shall be called dry, the officials explained.

Tufts Weak On Offense

Tufts must depend upon a forward passing offense this season unless the blocking and tackling shows marked improvement in this week's game with Middlebury at the Tufts Oval. The aerial offense was the only department which continued to stand up after the remainder of the Jumbo eleven wilted.

Ted Sheehan, veteran fullback, is versatile tossing passes to ends, Eddie Smith, Al Pearson and wingback, Art Griffin, which should help the Jumbos' cause on the week-end.

Today's session will consist of physical examinations, and possibly a short blackboard talk, for the players are too battered to go through any sort of workout. Dr. Golden will also settle the fates of Quarterback George Chiros, Tackle Ted Haselton and End Eddie Smith who are suffering from injuries which took them out of the game Saturday.

Passas, Mack Clash Wednesday

Steve Passas, Greek marvel from Hartford, will be a favorite to retain his junior heavyweight wrestling title when he meets Paddy Mack Wednesday night in the two out of three falls feature of the Boston Arena.

All-America 'Out'

Reynolds Hitless in Series

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—They'll be remembering Carl Reynolds as the "All-American out" for this world series.

The ex-American Leaguer, who returned to the big show this year with the Chicago Cubs and batted a neat .200 in the ational League's regular season, was officially at bat 12 times in the four games of the just concluded fall classic with the Yankees—and he failed, completely and entirely, to make a single safe hit.

That is a batting "honor" few have equalled in the history of World Series. In fact, the last time a player went for a line of "goose-eggs" in the composite box score for a series was in 1911, when John Murray of the New York Giants did it. Only four others did it before Murray.

In a lot of ways, Reynolds' work at the plate was far more unique in the 1938 championship set than Lefty Gomez's six-game undefeated winning streak for his series career, or Bill Dickey's four singles in the first game, or Stan Hack's seven singles to equal a mark for a four-game series, or the New York Yankees' unprecedented feat of winning three world championships in a row.

For instance, Reynolds hit exactly one ball out of the infield in his string of hard luck. He fanned three times, hit into double plays twice. His predecessors in the record stunt could hardly boast such a slump as that.

Fractures Leg In Football Play

Irving Lipman, 24, of Blue Hill avenue, Mattapan, today was under treatment at City Hospital for a fractured left leg, suffered when crashed to the ground by plunging football players while watching a game at Almond playground, Mattapan.

Yank Win Tonic To Ailing Boss

NEW YORK CITY, Oct 10—Dear Colonel Jacob Ruppert—That was pretty good. In fact, it was perfect. To be the owner of the first baseball team ever to win three successive world's championships should be just the tonic you've been needing in your illness.

That man, Joe McCarthy, can throw more sevens than a steamboat craps shooter with his own dice. If Joe had ever played in the big leagues, he probably would have turned out to be a successful manager. In that way, Joe could have got all the dope and developed into a master mind.

As it is, all he can do is win. He's the only man ever to win three straight championships. The only one ever to win two pennants in the National and American Leagues. But be patient with him, Colonel, he may pull out of his slump any season now.

The trouble with Joe is that he makes winning look so easy. He just gets together a few fellows who can throw 'em and a few fellows who can hit 'em, and sends them out there pulling together as a team. It's as simple as that.

You may remember that was Uncle Robbie's recipe for success as a pilot. Three or four big strong gents who could bullet that ball past the other side's batter, three or four more who could wallop the daylights out of it, and a big chew of tobacco.

Ripper Collins, the Chicago first baseman, walked into the Cubs' dressing room after yesterday's game, rubbing his hands together and smiling.

RIPPER JUBILANT

"Cheer up, boys," he said, "everything's all right. None of us got killed."

Everybody knows about your Yankees that swept the Bruins to a four straight game slaughter in the world's series for the second time in the meetings of these two teams. Indeed, of their last 27 series games, your roaring Rifles have won 24. Carl Hubbell beat 'em twice and Hal Schumacher once.

You and your organization deserve congratulations on a mighty team; deeper and heartier congratulations on that. It is a monument to a great game that will stand longer than the Stadium.
